

MRS. GILMAN TRIED COMMIT SUICIDE IN DAYTON HOSPITAL

MOTHER OF MURDERED GIRL IS SAID TO HAVE TRIED TO JUMP FROM WINDOW.

WHEN TOLD OF CHARGES FILED

Hearing of Curtis, Self Confessed
Murderer Commenced in Squire
Terry's Court Today.

Dayton, O., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Kate Gilman, mother of Dona Gilman, is said to have attempted to commit suicide when she learned that Fayne and Collins Gilman, sister and brother of the murdered girl, had been arrested for the crime. The information comes from the Miami Valley hospital today that when Mrs. Gilman heard of the warrants for her children, she tried to jump from the second story window, but was restrained by nurses. The shock of the arrest of her children has been too much for the grief stricken woman and her condition is serious.

Squire T. M. Herry's court room was crowded to the limit when the hearing of David Curtis, charged with the murder of Dona Gilman, began today. No murder case for years past has attracted the same amount of attention among all classes. In the court room business men and roustabouts stood jammed together. Fayne Gilman, sister of the murdered girl, arrived in the court room early to render what assistance she could to Attorney Eliff, her counsel, who is taking an active part in the prosecution of Curtis.

Opposite sat Ed Curtis and his wife, the prisoner's foster parents. Curtis, the confessed murderer, was brought into the court room by the deputy sheriff. He had shaved his mustache and was dressed in a blue serge suit and white shirt and collar and blue necktie. Following closely behind him was Collins Gilman, brother of the murdered girl. He is still under arrest and was in the custody of Sheriff Wright. Coroner Walter L. Klein was the first witness. In cross examination, after repeating Curtis' confession, Klein gave stragulation as the cause of the death of Dona Gilman and said: "I will state most emphatically that the girl was assaulted on the night she was murdered, and that the assault was committed after her death."

Donald Dunbar, through whose efforts Curtis was apprehended, was next placed on the stand and gave the details of the arrest and the confession of Curtis.

CHICKEN CASE AT COSHOCTON

MRS. JACKSON ADMITS THAT SHE KILLED BIRDS OF A NEIGHBOR.

Half Population of John Street Called to Testify—Mrs. Jackson an Athlete.

Coshocton, Dec. 12.—If the statements given out by Mrs. Eliza Jackson of John street are authentic, she must be one of the most athletic women in Coshocton. She probably weighs in the neighborhood of two hundred pounds and yet she admits that during the past year she has run down, caught and wrung the necks of forty of her neighbors' chickens.

This remarkable testimony came out during the trial of the case, Anna Coleman vs. Elizabeth Jackson, the defendant being charged with cruelty to two chickens, having broken one's leg and another's back with a club. Mrs. Jackson denies this, but admitted having wrung the necks of two score of the birds which she caught running at large on her premises.

Half of the population of John street was called to testify in the case. At the conclusion of the trial, Squire Wimmer bound the defendant over to the grand jury in the sum of $100.

LIPTON TO WED.
Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—Sir Thomas Lipton is to wed Miss Jane Morgan, a Philadelphia heiress, known as the "Girl Skipper," according to an insistent society report. Mr. Lipton spent much time while here, visiting at the home of Randall L. Morgan.

INFORMATION WANTED.
Washington, Dec. 12.—The senate this morning adopted a resolution of inquiry, offered by Callisher, calling upon the war department for all information relative to the recent killing of ten prisoners in Belibid prison, Manila, through administering Bubonic plague serum instead of cholera serum as intended.

MOURNING MASSES SUNG IN CHURCHES OF FRANCE TODAY

AMAZEMENT AT VATICAN WAS CAUSED BY EXPULSION OF PAPAL ENVOY.

DEMONSTRATION EXPECTED

Pope Calmer Than Advisors—Premier Tells How Rome May Have Peace.

Paris, Dec. 12.—Profiting by the 48 hour truce allowed Catholics before the separation law will be enforced, the funeral of M. Brunetieres was held this morning. It was probably the last which will ever be held under the old concordat.

A call is printed today by LaCroix, a Catholic organ, to all men and youths who are loyal to their religion to attend services on Sunday, defend the priest in charge and prevent any hostile demonstrations. This is the answer of the church to the official instructions given to the police last night to allow "free thinkers" to start demonstrations in favor of the separation law in churches while services are in progress and to interfere only in cases of real scandal. In such event the churches are to be closed.

A large force of policemen was called out today to protect the entrance to the chamber of deputies as it was feared there might be a violent demonstration there against the government.

Masses of mourning and reparation were sung in many of the leading churches today.

The prefecture of police has taken under consideration as complying with the law, two requests for permission to use churches, one of which comes from a notorious anarchist named Martinet, and the other from a newspaper hawk named Robin.

Rome, Dec. 12.—The expulsion from France of Mgr. Montagnini, secretary of the papal nunciature at Paris, who has represented the vatican at the French capital since the recall of the nuncio, has caused not only astonishment, but consternation, at the vatican. According to vatican officials, this step is an evident proof that the French government wishes not only to strike at the church as a religious institution, but to represent it as an enemy of the republic.

Pope Pius spent the day reading telegrams and going over certain documents concerning the situation in France. With him at work is Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state. Persons thoroughly familiar with vatican affairs declare that no such excitement and apprehension have prevailed at the vatican since the loss of temporal power. The pope is described as calmer than any member of his entourage.

According to reports received at the vatican the Catholics of France are divided into two classes, those who identify the interests of the church with their own political interests, using the church to further the anti-Republican agitation, and those who think only of the interests of the church. The former are delighted at everything unconditionally papal and intransigent and the latter are grieved at a situation which makes it impossible to be good patriots and good Catholics at the same time.

PREMIER TALKS

About the Expulsion of the Papal Representative.

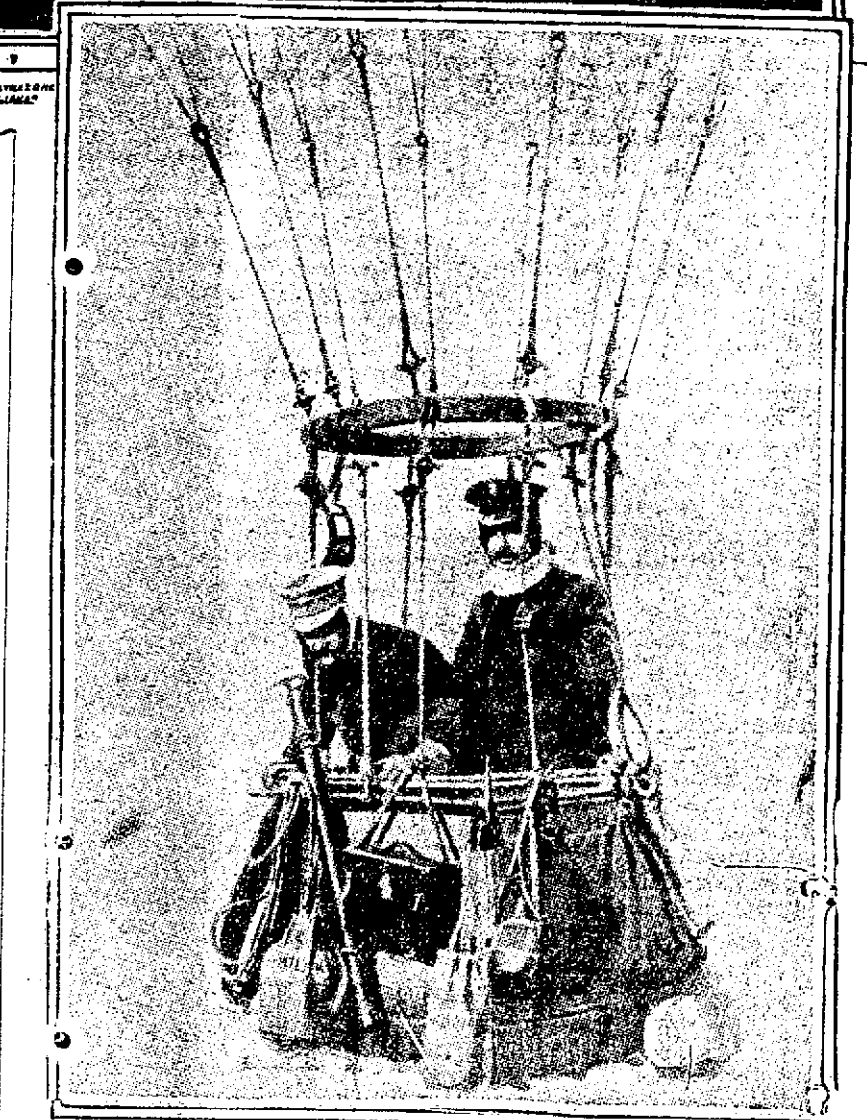

Paris, Dec. 12.—Premier Clemenceau, replying to a question in the chamber of deputies as to the reason for the expulsion of Mgr. Montagnini, the secretary of the papal nunciature, said it was because of his complicity with prominent clergymen of Paris, against whom proceedings were pending, in inciting churchgoers to rebellion. Interference by foreigners on orders from Rome in the politics of France, he declared, was not permissible. The premier, amid thunders of applause, tersely summed up the situation, declaring that the government's conciliatory propositions toward the church had been exhausted and that it had been decided in future to leave the onus on Rome. "If the church wishes," the premier continued, "there is still time to avoid a battle. We offer her the law of 1881, made for all Frenchmen, and submitting thereto she will have peace; but otherwise, by seeking us, she will find us."

Receivers have been appointed everywhere to assume charge of the sequestered property, and three policemen will be stationed all day by the doors of all the churches to report violations of the law. The general tone of the press is one of strong opposition to the changed attitude of the vatican. Cardinal Richard's palace in Paris will be one of the first buildings to be taken by the government. It will probably be used by the ministry of labor.

ARGUMENTS IN COUNT BONI SUIT ARE ENDED TODAY

Paris, Dec. 12.—Arguments of attorneys in the suit brought by creditors of Count Boni de Castellane, and his former wife, Madame Anna Gould, were concluded today. The court postponed rendering its verdict for a week. Total bills for household expenses presented amounted to 2,200,733 francs of which 189,555 francs have already been paid.

Mrs. Antonio Brosilis, 50, of Footdale, Pa., shot and killed her husband during a quarrel. Woman claims she shot in self-defense.

In this balloon Signori Usueli and Crespi traversed the Alps from Milan to Aix-les-Bains, passing over Mount Blanc, in four hours, on November 11. During their remarkable aerial voyage they took the above photograph of the Mer de Glace, Monte Rosa, at a height of 6000 metres.

MRS. BIRDSONG FOUND GUILTY SCREAMED WHEN VERDICT GIVEN

Man Held Out 22 Hours for Acquittal—Pathetic Scene in Mississippi Court Room When Little Boy Was Taken from Mother.

Hazlehurst, Miss., Dec. 12.—As if pierced through the heart Mrs. Angie Birdsong screamed when she heard the foreman of her jury solemnly read: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of manslaughter and recommend her to the mercy of the court."

Solvent did Mrs. Birdsong become that it was necessary to restrain her. Her little boy was clasped to her breast, and when a deputy took the child away it sobbed, "Mama, don't let him have me."

Every heart in the crowded court room was melted to tears, and strong men gave way as Mrs. Birdsong was led away. She was carried to her hotel, where two deputies guarded her.

The attorneys for Mrs. Birdsong, as well as her husband and United States Senator A. J. McLaurin, her uncle, were so confident that the woman would be set free by the jury that they had actually left town for their respective homes, leaving Mrs. Birdsong to follow today, when it was expected that the formalities would be complied with.

The verdict of the jury therefore, came like a bombshell to the defense. The people believe that Mrs. Birdsong had suffered long and sorely, and that she has been punished enough. Should a new trial be granted it is not believed that there could be found another jury in the state who would convict the woman.

The jury deliberated 22 hours, not reaching a verdict until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When they retired a proposition was made that in the event of 11 men favoring one verdict the twelfth man would cast his vote with the majority. The first ballot was taken yesterday at daylight, the night being spent in arguing the fine points of the case. The first ballot was seven for manslaughter and five for acquittal.

After several ballots one of the jurors who favored acquittal went over to the other side. Finally it narrowed down to three for acquittal and nine for conviction. This was the result when the court was notified at noon that a verdict could not be reached. After being instructed to further deliberate, one by one the three men who had the fate of Mrs. Birdsong in their hands went over until only one stood up for the woman and favored giving her liberty.

Then according to promise this lone juror solemnly cast his ballot and Mrs. Birdsong stood convicted of manslaughter.

This last juror to come over is crazed with grief and says he will never again make such an agreement if he serves on a jury. He believes the woman should have been promptly acquitted.

It is said that argument for a new trial will be based on this very issue. It is held that a mistrial would have resulted had the lone juror had the courage to hold to his convictions and that the ballot was more a matter of chance than deliberation.

DROPPED DEAD WAITING FOR CAR

JOHN GIEBEL SEIZED WITH A HEMORRHAGE OF LUNGS
WEDNESDAY.

Leaves Young Wife and Three Little Children—No Relatives in This Country.

An extremely sad case is that of John Giebel, a Slav, who dropped dead Wednesday morning at the corner of West Main and Pine streets while awaiting the arrival of the interurban car for Columbus. Death was due to hemorrhage of the lungs.

Mr. Giebel, who for a time was proprietor of a saloon here, later engaged in the meat business in West Newark, and who has recently been employed as a bricklayer, came to America with his pretty young wife but three years ago with the intention of making a success in this country. He has been in Newark most of the time since his residence in America.

The dead man leaves the young wife and three small children, aged 4, 2 and 1 years, respectively. They have no other relatives in this country, and, aside from the few of their own countrymen and the Americans living near them they are practically helpless. The funeral has not been arranged.

RAYNOR ASSAILS THE PRESIDENT

Washington, Dec. 12.—With incisive sarcasm Mr. Rayner of Maryland in the Senate this afternoon assailed the President's attitude toward the controversy now raging on the Pacific coast with reference to the segregation of the Japanese in the public schools of San Francisco. Referring to the threat in the President's message, Mr. Rayner said: "It is very important that we should know whether the President has any power in the premises, because it is quite a serious matter in view of the great calamity that has lately befallen the city, San Francisco, for the President to contemplate bombarding the city at this time, and to declare war against the board of county school trustees of California if there is no justification or pretext upon which such ferocious proceeding can be undertaken."

CARNEGIE WILL ADD TO NOBLE PEACE FUND

Washington, Dec. 12.—Andrew Carnegie has informed President Roosevelt that he will materially add to the Noble peace prize of $40,000 if the President will accept it. Carnegie's idea is to have a sufficient fund to establish large and permanent headquarters here for the proposed industrial peace commission.

GOLD MINING MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT STARTED BY LICKING MINING CO.

The Licking Mining company has finally succeeded in installing machinery for handling the gold bearing earth at its mine southeast of the city in a limited way. This result is attained after much difficulty in overcoming obstacles and adverse conditions. The present reorganized company has labored under much difficulty in obtaining the requisite funds for purchasing and installing the machinery and equipment now used in gold mining, where large amounts of earth are handled and washed to extract the gold. Some time ago the company succeeded in obtaining and installing a modern machine that demonstrated its ability to wash the earth and extract the gold in a highly satisfactory manner, but another obstacle then arose in providing means by which a sufficient quantity of earth could be handled and washed to make the operation profitable.

D. KELLEY DIES UNDER PECULIAR CIRCUMSTANCES

CORONER MARRIOTT IS MAKING
THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF BLACK HAND CASE.

WAS MR. KELLEY POISONED?

Body Brought to Newark for Post Mortem—Man Came from Pittsburg Recently.

David Kelley, aged 40 years, and residing three miles south of Black Hand, died under very mysterious circumstances suddenly Wednesday forenoon and as a result a complete investigation is to be carried on by Coroner L. L. Merriott, who went to Black Hand shortly before noon to order the body brought to Newark where an autopsy will be held at once.

The dead man was standing near the house in which he and his brother have resided during the three months of their residence in the neighborhood, and was engaged in conversation with John Crammer, a neighbor. He told Crammer that he was feeling bad and ached all over. He is reported to have said "I feel as if I had been poisoned." Within a very few minutes he staggered back and fell to the ground. He was hastily carried into the house where he died within a very few minutes.

Mr. Kelley, the dead man, is said to have come to Black Hand from Pittsburg where he was employed on a river boat as an engineer. Neither he nor his brother has followed any particular occupation, both working at odd jobs wherever they could secure employment. While both of the Kelley brothers have given a favorable impression among their acquaintances at Black Hand very little is known of their past. They were not known to have had any trouble between themselves or with any person before coming to Black Hand, but, of course, as they said little about their affairs to anyone their past is merely guessed at by the people of the community.

Coroner Merriott ordered the body brought here and an autopsy will be held Wednesday evening when a complete investigation will be made.

Frank Polk, a member of the company, was seriously injured by being hit on the head by a falling brick. The factory employed 1,000 people. It will be rebuilt. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is thought to have been incendiary.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 12.—Entailing a loss estimated at $25,000 the plant of the Peoria Star company was gutted by fire last night.

Franklin J. Moses, 60, former governor of South Carolina, was found dead in bed at his lodging house at Winthrop Beach, death being caused by asphyxiation.

AMUSEMENTS

THE BEAUTY DOCTOR.

At the Auditorium Thursday the newest of the big musical comedy successes will have its initial presentation. Fred E. Wright's production of "The Beauty Doctor," a musical comedy in two acts, is said to be one of the most elaborate of any musical efforts of late seasons. There is a big beauty craze and a large number of comedians and comedienne to interpret the hilariously funny plot, which, hitting as it does all the salient points of the beauty fad, offers opportunities well taken advantage of for funny incident and humorous situation. Mr. Wright has been fortunate in casting, his plays comprehensively and the dialogue and music in the hands of these competent people goes with a dash and a merry swing. There are a dozen or more songs that will be whistled and sung and the entire music of the piece is far above the average injected into musical comedy and is well sung by a chorus noted as well for its singing ability as for its beauty and agility. A "Rube" song, "Myron Brown, Farwell," is one of the real big musical hits of the year. "My Flower of the South," with a catchy chorus that will retain it in the public ear, "Angel Voices," a topical trio, and the many other musical and dancing numbers go to make "The Beauty Doctor" as good a show in a musical vein as it is in its comedy.

WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES.

When the express trains cut out 60 miles in 50 minutes, it was a revolution in speed; but it has since been equalled and surpassed. When "What Happened to Jones" came to life and cut out 50 laughs in 60 minutes, it was also a revolution—in laughs. This has never been equalled. It is a record which has stood for over 20 years and is destined to stand for at least twenty more. It is a play suited to all classes and tastes, clean, wholesome, rollicking; once seen never forgotten. A play that has been the topic of more conversation than anything before, the public in a decade. In full equipment with a superior cast headed by Richard Milton, it will be seen at the Auditorium Saturday matinee and night.

CHIMES OF NORMANDY.

Tonight the Chimes of Normandy, Planquet's pretty opera, will be played in the Auditorium by 65 people. If you miss seeing suave Serpoletti, Germaine, the lost marchioness, Manette and Gertrude, the village maidens, Henri, the marquis, Grenisoux, the miserable fisherman, crazy Gasard, the notary who settles so much trouble, and the Baillie who loses his bride, you will miss a rare treat. Tonight you can hear the chimes ring for the first time in 20 years, you can see the rusty armor that, sitting in the old chateau, costs the old miser his reason. The lantern carried by Gasard in the second act is 125 years old. A comic opera that has no equal, costumes that are beautiful, and a play that is first class in every respect should bring a crowded house. Directed by Walter W. Flora for the benefit of the Mary Webb Memorial Circle of The King's Daughters.

ORPHUM THEATER.

Two packed houses attended the Orphum again last evening and the general verdict is that the show is one of the best since the theater opened. Princess Chinquilla is a real Indian princess, and will hold a public reception Thursday afternoon after the matinee.

LA DELLES CHICKENS.

Last evening after the first performance at the Orphum, the following conversation was overheard between two archers who had just come from that popular place of amusement: "Say, Skinny, I bet those birds and rooster dat guy takes out of dem clothes are rubber and he kin squeeze 'em up little, and den when he puts

'em on de table dat feller dat throws his voice crows fer 'em."

"Get out! You're nutty. I wish you'd seen me chasing dat little rooster around de alleys back of de stage door dis afternoon. The guy whar owns dem let dem loose to get some sand, and de little cuss made a shoot fer dat grocery back yard, whar another rooster was crowing. Oh, yes, he was rubber, all right, all right—I don't tink. If you'd seen de clean, in' up he gave dat chicken, you'd say he was the swellest piece of rubber you ever see. And dat's whar we got dose comps to go in de show tonight, 'cause I done de heroic and resented de big grocery rooster from a bloody death. Oh, yes, he's a phony rooster—I don't tink."

The La Delles have one of the cleverest acts seen in Newark for many days. In fact the entire show at the Orphum this week is first-class, the best as a whole since the opening of the new vaudeville house.

MASQUERADE PARTY AT PALACE RINK.

Tonight will see one of the biggest feature entertainments put on at the Palace rink this season. It is a big mask skating party, in which every person on the floor will be in costume. The management has made arrangements to give prizes valued at $25 for costumes. Prizes are offered for handsome, unique, and comic costumes, for the most graceful skating couple and for the most awkward couple on the floor.

evening, was held last evening. The chorus attended en masse and sang with much spirit and assurance. Miss Mabel Phillips, who will sing the incidental solos, was in excellent voice. Newark is fortunate in having a soprano of such conspicuous ability. The concert at Taylor hall tomorrow with Mr. Wm. Harper, basso of New York, as soloist, promises to be an event of prime importance in the musical life of the city. An excellent chorus and a soloist of national reputation presenting a notable program are not to be heard here every day. There are still a few seats unsold, which may be gotten at Rawlings' music store or the Y. M. C. A.

WEST CARLISLE.

There will be services at the M. E. church Sunday night at 7 o'clock. Mr. O. C. Chaney and Miss Blanch Evans of Coshocton were married Tuesday at noon at the home of the bride's father at Coshocton.

Miss Luna Graham spent Sunday with her aunt, Miss Sarah Norris.

Mrs. George Billman has returned home after visiting relatives in West-erville.

Miss Maggie Cossma attended services here Sunday night.

Mr. Millard McKee and family spent Thursday with Mr. Dickerson.

Mr. Albert Turner was the guest of Mr. Glenne Gault, Sunday.

UP TO DATE RECORD OF THE ROUND WORLD'S HAPPENINGS

A MONSTER CORNCRIB.

The lofty structure in the picture is in Philadelphia. It is made of hollow tiles, and its owner intends to store corn in it after the fashion of the pharaoh of the Scriptures, but for a different reason. He believes that corn will soar to an unprecedented figure in the near future, and he is prepared to take advantage of the high prices.

A ROYAL CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST.

Queen Charlotte of Wurttemberg is a recent convert to Christian Science. Before her marriage to the king of Wurttemberg she was a princess of Schaumburg-Lippe. She is an excellent English scholar and has been a diligent student of "Science and Health" in the original. The king is reputed to be inclined favorably toward the faith of his consort. Both the Wurttembergs were Lutherans, which is the state religion.

A NEW ELECTRICAL TRAP FOR MOSQUITOES.

The picture illustrates a clever apparatus for getting rid of mosquitoes recently invented by Maurice Chaulin, a Frenchman. An incandescent light is hung between two rings which are connected with tiny vertical and parallel wires. These wires are charged with enough electricity to kill any mosquito that comes against them. The bright light attracts the insects and swarms of them are slain.

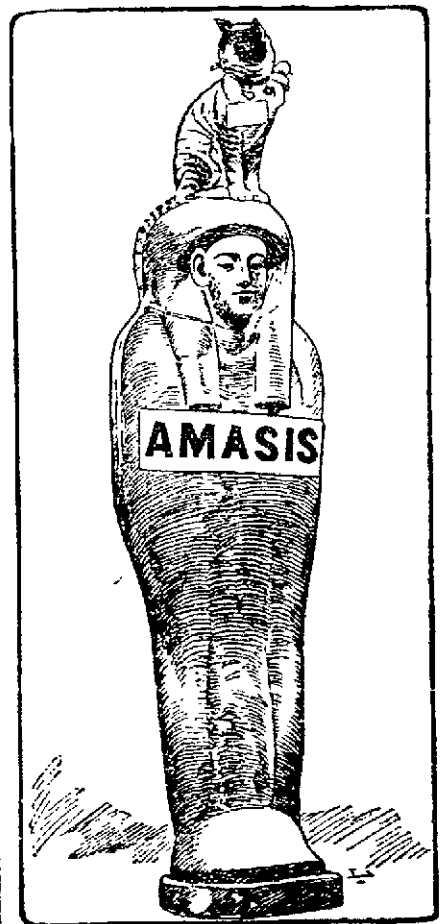

THE VERY LATEST IN DIRIGIBLE BALLOONS.

The monster flying machine shown in the cut was built in Paris and is attracting a great deal of attention. Walter Wellman, whose polar expedition is wintering at Spitzbergen and who is probably more interested in air navigation than any other person, went to Paris to inspect this new airship. It is sixty-two yards in length, with a maximum diameter of eleven feet.

NO RESPECTER OF PERSONS.

The picture illustrates an amusing scene that may be seen almost any day in front of a curiosity shop in St. Martin's court, London. The proprietor keeps a mummy case standing against his doorway, and the shop cat has taken a fancy to spend most of the day sitting on the head of it.

LINOTYPE IN BANK.

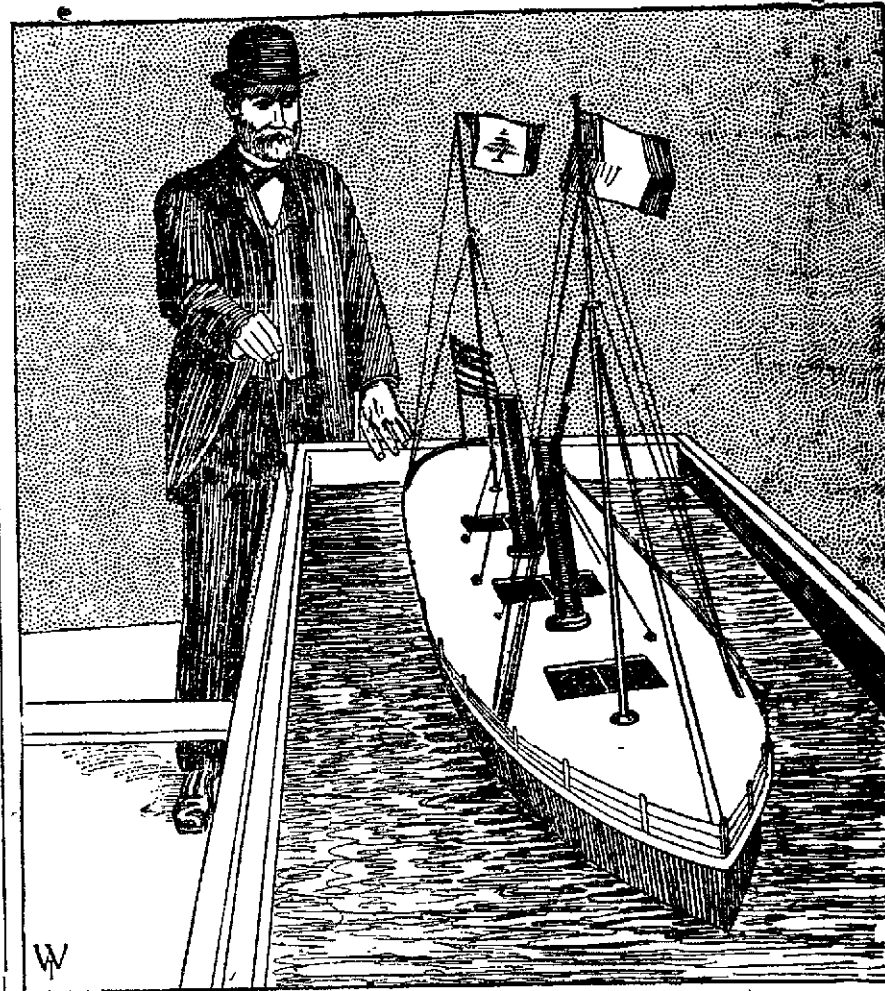

Linotype machines are being put in at the Bank of England, and in future the addresses on the dividend notices sent out will be printed instead of written by hand.

AN ANCIENT BRITISH SANCTUARY.

Ely cathedral has recently celebrated the eight hundredth anniversary of its dedication. The picture shows the west front of the stately edifice. It is cruciform in design, 537 feet in length by 179 feet across the great transepts. It is Gothic of almost every style, from early Norman to perpendicular. The great church has been restored perfectly since 1845.

MODEL OF AN UNSINKABLE SHIP.

The model craft shown in the picture is the invention of Captain Meacom, who has succeeded in interesting the United States government in his effort to make an unsinkable ship. The inventor depends upon a double hull to attain his object, and it is expected that the United States will appropriate the funds for an experimental vessel.

AN INTERESTING CONGRESSMAN.

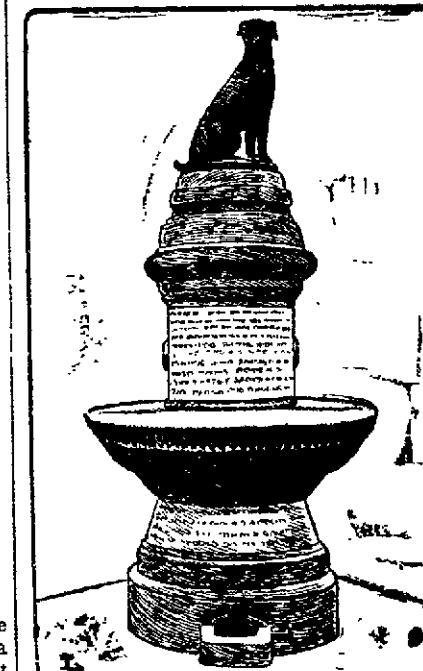

Julius Kahn, member of congress from the Fourth California district, is recently been erected at Battersea, England, as a memorial to a vivisectioned dog. The inscription tells how and when the animal died and also names

The fountain herewith pictured has been erected at Battersea, England, as a memorial to a vivisectioned dog. The inscription tells how and when the animal died and also names a resident of San Francisco since childhood. He chose the stage as a profession and has appeared with most of the great American actors. Subsequently he tired of histrionics and turned his attention to the law, at which he has been very successful. He is popular and is now serving his second term in congress. Mr. Kahn is a Hebrew.

his slayer. Before the town authorities would permit the fountain to be put up they required a bond for $2,000 from the Antivivisection society as protection against possible libel action.

AUTO. OWNERS ENJOY BANQUET

MR. JAMES MILLS PLAYED ROLE OF HOST AT HOTEL WARDEN
TUESDAY NIGHT.

Affair Was Preceded by Theater Party—Nearly 100 Present.
Mayor Presided.

Mr. James Mills, the automobile man, proved himself a capital host Tuesday night when he entertained nearly 100 Newark autoists with a theatre party followed by a delightful banquet at the Warden. Barney Oldfield and Earl Kaiser, the principal guests to be, notified Mr. Mills at a late hour that, owing to the burning of their garage, in which they had some cars badly damaged, it would be impossible for them to be present. This state of affairs while regretted, did not deter the genial host from dealing out to his friends and Cadillac owners the best to be had in the way of entertainment and good things to eat.

No little attention was attracted as the 29 latest model Cadillacs, their lanterns shining out, wound their way from the Mills garage to the Orphium theatre and, after the performance, clear around the square stopping at the north entrance of the Warden, where by the way, a prominent citizen tried to enter early in the evening and finding the door would not yield readily, seems to have attempted to "butt in through the glass." The long line of autos made a complete circle in passing around the public square and resembled very much the form of a huge reptile with bright little spots of fire along its body.

At the Orphium the party witnessed an exceedingly fine vaudeville bill. The fact that the performers realized the distinction of their guests made a decided hit with the auto party too. In front of the theatre the 29 autos were "chucked" against the curb so close to each other that, as one man remarked, it looked like the New York automobile show. And the fact that the machines were handled very quickly and deftly in being run into their places close to so many others and in the dark, too, showed that Newark really has some good chauffeurs even if there aren't very many people run over in a year.

At the Warden the same plan was used in stationing the machines so that when all were in line the entire space, from Livingston's livery stables around to the front of the Warden, was occupied.

After a few moments of chatting in the lobby of the hotel, Mr. Mills and Manager Tuttle escorted Mayor S. H. McCleery, town master, to his seat and the remainder of the guests rapidly filled the big double dining room of the hotel and gathered about the beautifully decorated tables. The guests were seated to the "honk" of auto horns at the ends of the tables and the lights were flashed on.

The tables were decorated with red shaded candles, auto fixtures, and smilax. The following delightful menu was observed:

TOOT.
A Horn for Everyone.
Blue Points Shells
Purree of Tomatoes aux Croutons
Celery Radishes Olives
Roast young turkey Oyster dressing

Many were called upon who failed to respond and still others were forced to acknowledge the receipt of special messages throughout the evening.

Mr. Mills was called upon in a few well chosen words proved himself a master of the art of oratory in spite of a hemorrhage of the jaw which caused him much annoyance in the first part of the evening.

After "smoking up" and remarks had ceased Thomas' McCleery, on behalf of the guests, bade the host good morning and, following a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Mills and the Orphium theatre, the 29 autos were soon returning to their various parts of the city.

The affair was decidedly enjoyable from every standpoint, principal of which was the excellent catering and efforts of the Warden. One of the guests suggested a fitting expression as follows:

"This event has been all that if 'auto' From the steering gear back to the chain, So with great 'Little Jim' for a motto We're willing to try this again."

DR. JULIAN P. THOMAS AND HIS WIND WAGON.

New York, Dec. 11—Dr. Julian P. Thomas Thursday night started the first motor driven wind wagon ever run in this country in effectiveness it exceeded even his expectations and his chief difficulty was in checking its speed. With a free course it would easily have run away from anything except a very fast automobile.

Incidentally Dr. Thomas was responsible for more excitement than Broadway has seen in many a day. Horses shied and pedestrians crossed the street in a panic for the sidewalks. With the gasoline engine snapping like that of a racing automobile and the great propeller blades swinging through the air as the wagon whirled as if a real flying machine had been sailing between the lines of excited persons on both sides of the street.

Now whizzing straight ahead and the next instant shuddering dangerously near the curb, the wind wagon raced up and down the street for an hour until Dr. Thomas was satisfied that he had successfully solved the problem which has puzzled inventors for years.

Dr. Thomas expects to use his steel tubing with automobile wheels

HOODS ARE A CONVENIENT ACCOMPANIMENT TO AUTO GARB.

The extremely fetching designs are displayed in this picture, all of them widely differing in essential details, and yet with a certain degree of the same charm attaching to all. The left figure carried a very smart coat in leather, one of the new tannings in which the leather is left just as flexible as one's kid glove, and yet maintains all of its stout serviceability, and its wind and rain-proof qualities unimpaired. Here, too, the yoke is made use of to achieve the flat, smooth setting over the shoulders, while the lower part of the coat is as full as comfort demands or fashion permits. The hood is attached with snap fasteners to the standing collar, so that it may instantly be released when it is desired not to use it, or it may be left hanging over the shoulders in the style that smart French women favor at present. A plaid silk is used to line the coat and hood both, the gay color making a pretty impression on the shirrings over the face.

The standing figure on the right wears one of the new rosewood colored griffonette cloths, thing being a brown with strong hints of red in its composition, especially attractive in this wind and rain proof cloth. Here the hood is cleverly managed with a cape collar that sets squarely on the shoulders, finished with the piped and scalloped edges that are one of the latest freaks of fashion. The coat itself follows the new style in outdoor wraps and raincoats, the fulness belled in at the waistline and with convenient pockets on either side of the fronts.

The seated figure in the center carries a rainproof mohair garment, the hood made in this in a totally different way, and attached with straps that fasten with fancy buttons around the high collar. All of the coats are lined with a gayly plaided silk which peeps out becomingly from the frame of the hood.

DISMISSAL OF SUB-CONTRACTORS

Board of Service Passes Resolution Regarding Contractors Laying City Water Works Pipes.

As was stated in the Advocate a few days ago, the Phoenix Construction company to whom was let the sub-contract for laying the mains for the municipal waterworks, had been discharged by the general contractors, The American Light and Water company. At the time that statement was given out, it was claimed that the work was being done too slowly to satisfy the board.

The real reason came out Wednesday morning when the board of service adopted a resolution dismissing the sub-contractors. In this it was stated that the contractors were dismissed "for the reason that the Phoenix Construction company is not the skill nor the equipment to do the said work properly or with reasonable diligence and that this fact has been fully verified by the work done by the company under an earlier contract."

It seems that the Phoenix people had two contracts with the board and that the work under the first one was entirely unsatisfactory. Indeed it has been stated that the work would hardly bear inspection and that when it was tested with a pressure of from 140 to 150 pounds every joint of pipe leaked.

A number of reports have been circulated the past few days regarding the imperfect manner in which the pipes were being laid by the construction company, the truth of which the Advocate is unable to affirm or deny. But the wording of the above resolution by the service board in dismissing the sub-contractors would naturally lead to the conclusion that the reports alleging the faulty manner that the pipes were being laid are nearer the truth than otherwise.

One Man Who Rose Despite a Silver Spoon

A Railroad President Who Is Considerate and a Multimillionaire Who Is Courteous

Stuyvesant Fish, Former Head of the Illinois Central and Harriman's Opponent in a Railroad War, Is Big All Over, Level Headed and Democratic in His Tastes — Would Rather Hunt Ducks Than Attend a Social Function—Novel Entertainments Given by Mrs. Fish, Who Aspires to Be Society's Leader

By ROBERTUS LOVE.

IN the casting of Stuyvesant Fish from the presidency of the Illinois Central railroad more issues appear to be involved than, in the language of Abraham Lincoln or somebody else, you can shake a stick at. The event is interesting both socially and sociologically.

If reports may be credited the ambition of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish to become the "leader of society" was used by E. H. Harriman to encompass the defeat of Mr. Fish. This matter affects personally only the Four Hundred who constitute society with a big "S" as it consists in New York city and at Newport. But in the sociological trend of the incident are concerned life insurance, Standard Oil and other interests of importance to the general public. Thus the vote of the eight Illinois Central directors who removed Mr. Fish on the 7th of November affects practically as many persons, in some degree, as did the general elections throughout the country the preceding day.

Two Set Purposes Achieved.

By the removal of Mr. Fish from the railroad presidency, which he has held for nearly twenty years, Mr. Harriman achieves two set purposes. He extends his railroad holdings so that he is now master of 25,000 miles of railroad and $2,500,000,000 capital, and he punishes Stuyvesant Fish for that gentleman's admirable obstinacy in refusing, at Harriman's demand, to serve as a dummy in the attempted dummy investigation of the Mutual Life Insurance company from the inside. Har-

He is six feet four inches long and would be that high were it not for a perceptible stoop, said to be due to the lifelong necessity of getting his ear down low enough to hear the talk of average sized men.

Mr. Fish is big all over. His face is large, his head is large, his frame is large, and his whole aspect and bearing give one the distinct impression of a thoroughly masculine type. He is not at all the sort of man one might naturally assume to be the husband of the woman who aspires to be the acknowledged and absolute queen of social swiftness in America. Yet that is Mrs. Fish's aspiration.

While Mr. Fish has been building up the Illinois Central railroad Mrs. Fish has been establishing herself as a social leader. By common consent Mrs. Astor, now seventy-six years old, is the present leader. In an interview at St. Louis three years ago, when Mrs. Astor was only seventy-three, Mrs. Fish was asked if she were a rival of Mrs. Astor. She replied:

"What? I a rival of Mrs. Astor? Why, she's eighty years old. She's more than that. She's eighty-four!"

Nevertheless Mrs. Fish for some years has held receptive shoulders for the mantle of the aged queen, and thereby hangs a part of the present tale. John Jacob Astor and Cornelius Vanderbilt are Illinois Central directors. Young Mrs. Astor and Mrs. Vanderbilt would like to lead the Four Hundred. Mrs. Fish has far outdistanced them in her strides toward the throne. Harriman needed votes to remove Fish. He became a diplomat.

MR. AND MRS. STUYVESANT FISH.

riman already was president of a dozen railroads and three or four steamship companies, with practically absolute power over many other companies, and it is held by astute Wall street men that the Standard Oil company is behind him in all his operations. Mr. Harahan, it is true, was chosen president of the Illinois Central, but the name sounds so much like Harriman that it fits in nicely with the fact that Harriman and not Harahan is now running the Illinois Central.

Stuyvesant Fish is now very "widely and favorably" known. He is an international character. The bold stand he took in favor of insurance policy holders as against the machinations of plunderers when he resigned from the Mutual Life and took up the fight for investigation from the outside made him of international size. There are so few other big fishes of this sort in the financial seas that it is quite worth while to tank Stuyvesant Fish in the public aquarium for a brief inspection.

The Fish family is a big family in America. It dates back to our foundation as a republic. Nicholas Fish was a corps commander in the Revolutionary war. Later he was the firm friend and executor of Alexander Hamilton, after whom he named his son. This Hamilton Fish was President Grant's secretary of war for eight years after serving as congressman, governor of New York and United States senator. His son Nicholas became a distinguished diplomat. His son Hamilton made a wide reputation as a politician and parliamentarian. One of the first American soldiers to fall in Cuba during the war of 1898 was Hamilton Fish 3d.

Big All Over.

Stuyvesant Fish is the youngest son of the great secretary of state. He has struck out in new waters. He appears never to have had any taste for politics, and there was no war during his fighting age, so he became a financier. Physically he is big enough to stand proxy for his whole historic family.

He is nothing of a society man himself, cannot even wear his clothes so that they look as if he ordered them to his measure, and doesn't care the snap of his finger for anything on earth except more power as a railroad man. Harriman, it is alleged, talked pleasantly to the ladies and induced them to get their husbands to vote against Fish in order to weaken the struggle of Mrs. Fish for the society leadership. All that sounds like the outline of a chapter on European court intrigue, but such is the story they are now telling in New York.

Gave a Duck Pond Dinner.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish truly is an interesting person. She is very unconventional despite her social aspirations. She set out from the start to be a reformer rather than a conformer. The first thing she did in society was to give a dinner with a pond in the center of a table whereon little live ducks floated. Ward McAllister, who invented the Four Hundred fiction, was then the official drum major of society. He was horrified by the duck pond dinner and read Mrs. Fish out of society. The lady had a spirit. She defied Ward McAllister and plunged right into the middle of society and became so popular as an entertainer that McAllister was compelled to put the Fishes on his famous list when he made it up. That was more than twenty years ago. As the Fish wealth increased the social advance of Mrs. Fish kept pace.

Mrs. Fish likes to do things differently. She required the swellest residence in New York, so she built a reproduction of the palace of the Doges at Venice, filling it with choice and costly art works. One of her first receptions there was a theatrical entertainment. "A Chinese Honeymoon" being the play. It was a social novelty. But the harvest home festival which she gave at her Newport summer home six years ago was a still greater novelty. All the guests came dressed as farmers and peasants, bringing to Mrs. Fish as the lady of the manor a suitable present. One millionaire swain brought a live pig, which escaped and ran between the feet of a milkmaid worth $7,000,000 in her own right. The milkmaid shrieked and let go of the rope which held the sucking calf she had brought to Mrs. Fish. This caused the chickens to cackle and the geese to quack, and together it was a very realistic affair.

There is something refreshing in Mrs. Fish's candor. She says what she means. "I should not like to be the wife of a president of the United States," she once remarked to a reporter, "for I might have to eat with negroes."

To the same newspaper man she gave several of her set opinions, requesting him to write them just as she said them, and here they are:

"I do not believe in equality. It would never do. There always will be classes in this country. We are coming more and more to have an aristocracy and a common people. I do not believe in being too democratic."

First Worked as a Clerk.

Stuyvesant Fish went to work as a clerk in the New York offices of the Illinois Central railroad when he was twenty years old and just out of Columbia college. It is said that he received $3 a week at first, and his father made him an allowance of $50 a month for his living expenses. This allowance was small not through necessity of course, but as a matter of discipline. Mrs. Fish likes to tell about her husband's early "struggles." Once she was visiting the Drexel family at Nice. There was a dinner party, one of the guests being a little Saxon prince. Mrs. Fish told how her husband had worked up to the presidency of the Illinois Central, beginning as a cheap clerk.

"Why," exclaimed the prince, "I had always heard that your husband came from a fine family!"

Some of the guests gasped, but Mrs. Fish retorted quite good naturedly: "Oh, yes, he does; but you see, in America it is not a disgrace to work. How much better it would be if those conditions prevailed in Europe! We in America would be spared so many titled nonentities."

It used to be quite the fashion for teachers and preachers and editors to point to multimillionaires as conspicuous examples of successful men, telling anecdotes relating to their humble beginnings in the business of multiplying millions. Stuyvesant Fish scarcely could serve as a model for that sort of preachment, for there never was a time when he was in humble circumstances, not even when he walked to the Illinois Central offices and back to save car fare so that he could eat better dinners out of that paternal allowance when he first began work. Back of him were Fish millions and Stuyvesant millions, for he is descended from sturdy old Peter Stuyvesant, the poor leg governor of New Amsterdam, who got in on the ground floor in New York real estate long before the Astors and the Vanderbilts came to the surface. Stuyvesant Fish, both as to finance and family prestige, was born with a silver spoon in his mouth big enough to be called a soup ladle.

So we cannot set him upon a pedestal as one who came to town with a patch and 30 cents in his pants and arose to riches and distinction. But as a man who has attended strictly to business and worked hard after getting a pretty good start by the accident of birth we may point to Mr. Fish. He seems always to have been level headed, and successes have not put his head out of plumb. Stuyvesant Fish is essentially a democratic individual, as becomes the son of one who was General Grant's close friend and adviser. He is a reputation as one of the most courteous and considerate multimillionaires in the business, and any newspaper man who has had occasion to meet Mr. Fish will testify to this fact. In his office he calls the men Dick and John instead of mistaking them, and it is not done in a patronizing manner, but because Stuyvesant Fish is just that way. He never got stuck up.

Likes to Be Courteous.

Sometimes, when he can't help it, Mr. Fish goes to his wife's social functions. He likes to be courteous. Every day he goes to business, and frequently he stays until all the others have gone home. Just now he is busy at his new offices, having given up his old offices to his successor, preparing his case against the Harriman contingent for the recovery of control in the Illinois Central. There is every indication of a stiff fight, and Mr. Fish is not calculated to let his plans go off half cocked.

"I used to have a lawyer down south," he says, "who would say to me when there was something unusually difficult to a legal problem, 'Stuy, I want to go out in my back lot and sit down on a log and chew tobacco over this.' Now, I don't chew tobacco, but I sometimes go up to my farm and go out in my back lot and do some hard thinking."

His "farm" is the Fish homestead, acquired by Hamilton Fish the day Fort Sumter was fired upon. It is a magnificent place at Garrison-on-the-Hudson, opposite West Point. Mrs. Fish declares her intention of making this place a country seat of European wellness, so that she may live there instead of at Newport and do more new things when she shall become the actual leader of society. As to Stuyvesant Fish, he would rather go duck hunting any day than put on evening clothes and look conspicuous at a "function" on account of his size.

Columbus	0	1	.000

(Special to the Advocate.) Urrichville, Dec. 12.—Newark continued her winning streak here last night when they defeated the local team by a score of 6 to 1. The game was fast and snappy but the Newark aggregation showed the careful training and practice where there was an evident absence of the same on the part of the Urrichville boys.

The team work of Heath and Barker delighted a crowd of 300 Dennison spectators which crossed the river and invaded the Urrichville rink to do all they could in defeating their old time enemies, Urrichville.

Smart and Lake played a great defensive game while the goal defense work of Sweetzer was truly wonderful.

The individual work of the local players was good, but as stated there was lack of team work. The defensive playing of Gontender Disher was one of the features of the home team's playing.

The work of Perry at halfback was truly phenomenal. The young Michigan man who has been coaching the local team is a second Barker and it required the united efforts of the entire team to keep this wily player away from the Newark cage.

The Urrichville rink, which is owned and operated by Newark capitalists, is an excellent one and well lighted. It has a solid wainscoting and furnished a great footing for the Newark players.

The Urrichville team is a sturdy lot of boys and they will certainly make good with more practice. One of the pleasant features of the game was the impartial refereeing on the part of Smith, who showed good judgment at all times. The game itself was free from all rough features and greatly pleased the big crowd of people present to see it. Urrichville will play a return game at Newark Friday night.

Newark—Heath, first rush; Barker, second rush; Smart, center; Lake, halfback; Sweetzer, goal.

Urrichville—Miller first rush; Blank, second rush; Klein-Gleacy, center; Perry, halfback; Disher, goal.

Urrichville 0 0 1-1

Summary—Rushes, Heath 8, Miller 1. Goals, Barker 2, 20 and 20 1-2 seconds. Heath, 5:20; Barker 16 seconds, Miller 2 minutes. Heath 2:30, Barker 1:30. Referee, Smith. Timer, Axtell. Attendance, 750.

CHRISTMAS GAMES WITH MT. VERNON

Newark Will Play Knox County Lads Xmas Afternoon—Return Game Christmas Night.

The Newark polo team is settling down to business for the season and a good program of dates reaching well into the winter has been arranged. Not many of the dates have been announced, but it is known that the Newark team will open the polo season at Mt. Vernon with a Christmas matinee. The same evening the two teams will come to Newark for a night game. Mt. Vernon is practicing regularly and is said to have a good team.

Friday night of this week Urrichville will be in Newark for a return game.

STANDARD OIL CASE ARGUED TODAY

Chicago, Dec. 12.—District Attorney Sims, arguing before Judge Landis today in the case against the Standard Oil company of Illinois, for receiving rebates, said the court yesterday sent a man to the penitentiary for two years for robbing the mails, which means the loss of his earning power for that time. If the company was convicted and fined $1,128,000 the sum would represent its earning power for two years. The same rule measuring punishment should apply in both cases, he said.

Levi Boster, reputed to have been the oldest person in Missouri, died at his home near Houston, Texas county, aged 116 years. He was born in Virginia.

BASEBALL MEN TO MEET AGAIN

STOCKHOLDERS IN NEWARK TO HEAR REPORT OF AUDITING COMMITTEE.

Meeting Called for 7 O'Clock Thursday Night in City Building. Good Report to be Made.

The meeting of the old and new stockholders of the Newark Baseball Club will be held at 7 o'clock tomorrow (Thursday) evening, instead of 7:30 as was announced last week. The reason of calling the meeting at this time, is apparent to those who wish to attend the production of the "Beauty Doctor," at the Auditorium or who have lodge meetings to attend.

It is hoped that the attendance will be large enough to permit the transaction of much business which will necessitate the large majority of the stockholders being present. It is probable that changes will be made in the present by-laws pertaining to the time of holding the annual meeting so that this meeting can be held as early as possible.

Much valuable information has been gotten together by the committee appointed to audit the books and a good report will be made. Every man in town who signed the subscription papers will be interested in this report and should be present.

WHAT IS AN O-P FRANCHISE WORTH?

Sandusky Wants a Berth in Local Organization and Wants it Bad.

"What is a minor league franchise worth?" asks Will McKay in the Cleveland Leader.

That is the question that has been put to the writer time and time again this fall by parties wishing to break into organized baseball.

"A franchise is worth as much as it will bring."

Sandusky has been anxious to break into the Ohio and Pennsylvania league. A stock company has been formed and the promoters have gone so far as to lease a piece of ground that is easily accessible, not only to Sandusky, but from the northern part of the state, owing to the traction facilities. Although considered to be a first class Sunday town, owing to the many excursions run to Cedar Point, still the promoters are unable to get the proper support for a berth in the O. & P. league, where at present there are at least four losing propositions.

DRUMM AFTER PITCHERS.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 12.—It begins to look now as if Drumm had decided to release or sell most of his veterans. He is strengthening where he needs it, to—the pitching department. Bailey and Pickett, two well known semi-professional pitchers of Columbus, have been asked to join the pitching staff. Marion wants them and offered good terms. They have not signed contracts yet, but it is likely that Ford will persuade them to sign before long. Youngstown was also after Bailey, but they did not offer suitable terms.

URRICHVILLE POLO MAN HAS TROUBLES

Ousted Home Man From Good Job and Causes Feeling in Team, But is Winning Out.

Rival Perry, of Kalamazoo, the Urrichville halfback, has had his troubles in getting a polo team together in the little town. There was no lack of material—that was not the difficulty. It happened like this. When polo was first proposed at the rink, Manager Daken was asked to recommend a man who would make a good coach for the team, and who could take a position at the rink.

Perry was recommended but when he appeared on the scene, he ousted a Urrichville man from a good job. This caused hard feeling and from that time on, he has been pulling against a strong public feeling.

Regardless of these drawbacks, Perry has developed an excellent team. With more practice, it will make all the clubs in the league hump themselves. Perry himself is a clever player and knows the game thoroughly, and unless he is retained as coach and as one of the players, the team can hardly hold its position in the league race.

This match series will consist of ten games, five to be rolled here and five in Cambridge, the total pins to count. A large purse is offered for the winning team. The first five games of the series are being rolled at Cambridge this afternoon and the teams will return to Newark tonight.

NEWARK LOST TO MT. VERNON.

Mr. Vernon, O., Dec. 12.—Newark was defeated by the Mt. Vernon basketball team at the rink here last night in a close and exciting game, the score being 14 to 12. The Newark team is composed of a number of Y. M. C. A. and High school stars of last year. A return game may be booked.

The Teachers' Association which was held here Saturday was carried out as published. All the speakers did credit to themselves and the subjects used.

A large number was present and many took part in the general discussion, much interest being manifested by those outside the school room.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Tuttle of Croton visited their daughter Mrs. Harry Wells Sunday.

Mr. C. E. Stockberger and L. M. Shipley made a business trip to Newark Monday, the latter being accompanied by Mr. J. W. Shipley of New London, Ia.

The lecture given Sunday evening by Rev. Mr. Long was very interesting. Owing to the inclement weather not a very large crowd was present. Preaching at the M. E. church on next Sunday evening at 7 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. L. A. Hart, subject, "The Fourth Commandment."

Mr. George Brown while assisting in sawing down a tree, had the misfortune to cut one of his fingers pretty badly by catching it on the saw.

37 NORTH THIRD ST.

Charles E. Magoon,
Governor of Cuba
Brilliant Nebraska Jurist Who Has an Intimate Knowledge of the Latin American Achievements of a Man Who Rose From the Position of a Country Lawyer and Became "The Law and Constitution and Digest of the Oriental Archipelago"—Gained Popularity in Panama and Made a Code of Laws for the Zone.

THREE kinds of law govern civilization. One is national law, and another is international law. The third and most important is common sense. The law of common sense exists for emergencies. In the nature of things it can be neither statutory nor codified. It is a sort of executive entirety. When we find a man who is an adept in the application of the law of common sense we are apt to call him a person of executive ability. An extraordinary knowledge of international law and a firm grasp of the law of common sense have made Charles E. Magoon the provisional governor of Cuba,
with a promise of still higher place.

Governor Magoon occupies just now a position that is unique in history. A citizen of one nation, he is governing another nation under the constitution and the sovereignty of that other nation. The situation is highly interesting. It is a novelty, and most novelties are interesting. The celebrated Platt amendment, which is an annex to the Cuban constitution, is responsible for the anomaly. Very much of the new and extraordinary has been engrained upon the growing tree of American governmental polity during the past eight years, made necessary by new and extraordinary conditions.

Our little engagement with Spain in 1898 was the first chapter in a serial

Until the spring of 1899 there was a fairly successful young lawyer out in Nebraska, at Lincoln. Mr. Bryan's home town. He had been at one time judge advocate general of the Nebraska state guard, but that fact had not even leaked over the border into Kansas. He was just a country lawyer, or, rather, a small city lawyer, with an average practice. He paid a visit to Washington, and Nebraska knew him no more as a citizen. With Cuba still on our hands for the time being, with the Philippines occupying both hands
quite busily, new legal complications had arisen. The regular officials at Washington, like Uncle Sam, had their hands full. It was necessary to organize the bureau of insular affairs to look after our island possessions. Then so many questions as to the lawful way of doing this or that came up that it was necessary to have a new official, a "law officer," in that bureau.
Mr. Melklejohn, the assistant secretary of war, was from Nebraska. He knew Magoon and had a high opinion of his legal abilities. He suggested that the young Nebraskan become law officer to the insular bureau.

The young man didn't know about it.
It was too sudden. He wired his law

new man from the west, who had been invited to accept a presumably humble position, which turned out to be a highly important one. Just how many ancient and modern times in yellow sheep blinding Magoon pored over—American, British, Spanish and polyglot—to make the punishments fit the crimes, to bring cosmo out of chaos, to keep the war department and the state department and the president from stumbling into pitfalls in the dark, the world wots not. But the world of lawyers knows quite well that bulky book written by Magoon, containing his opinions and observations, called "The Law of Civil Government Under Military Occupation," which Secretary Root caused the government to publish. Several editions were required. It was something new in the literature of jurisprudence.

"Magoon," remarked Root, "has been the law and constitution and digest of the oriental archipelago."
Now we have the secret of Magoon's appointment to rule Cuba. He knows the law of civil government under military occupation.

Dug and Plugged.
For five years he dug and plugged.
Still nobody heard of him save the civil administrators in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines—William H.
Taft and the others. They heard of him quite frequently. In time the isthmian canal commission was created.
Magoon was made general counsel and "law officer" to the commission, and his name got into the newspapers.

"Magoon? Magoon? Who is Magoon?" asked many. It was a new name and had a sort of funny sound.
Some wag misspelled it. McGoan President Roosevelt made Magoon a member of the canal commission, and then supplemented the compliment by making him governor of the Panama canal zone. The "judge" called at the White House to thank the president.

"When a man has won his spurs as you have," observed the president,
"there is no need of his thanking anybody to wear them."

So down to Panama went Magoon as governor of the canal zone. Here again was an altogether new job. It was like giving an actor a place in a play and making him create his own character with nothing to go by except his knowledge of the art and his apt-ness. The zone had no code of laws.
Magoon did what Napoleon did for France—he made a code. Then he enforced it.

Talked to Them Like a Father.
The governor had much to do. Panama was a very new republic, for which Uncle Sam stood sponsor. It was a land where yellow fever and revolutions were liable to break out any day.
Yellow fever did break out in the canal zone, and Governor Magoon went off it with a big stick. He cleaned up the premises and stamped his foot down hard on Yellow Jack. Then a revolution began to show symptoms.
The governor, who had made himself
very popular with all sorts of people in Panama, talked to the populace like a father. He made a Fourth of July speech—told them that the United States government expected great things of them and that Uncle Sam thought they were pretty fine folks—
and the revolutionary cloud blew over before it burst.

He had been governor but a few weeks when there came a demand from Panama that he be made also the United States minister to that republic. Thus spake the Panama Star and Herald:
"With a full realization of the ability and tact of Governor Magoon and with a knowledge of the high esteem felt for him by the government of the republic,
we would respectfully request his excellency President Roosevelt to appoint him as minister also. We do this with a feeling of confidence that such an appointment will give much pleasure here and that owing to his recognized tact and ability the many little difficulties that are bound to occur between the two countries will be speedily removed in a dignified and honorable manner satisfactory to all parties."

Six weeks after his appointment as governor he became minister also.
Governor Magoon continued his study of the Latin Americans, begun when he was poring over old Spanish records and reports at Washington. Now he had opportunity to make a study at first hand. "I was very much gratified," he said during an official visit to Washington, "that the favorable opin-tion that I had formed of the Latin Americans was justified by the facts."

This reveals the judicial mind. Many of us are too prone to look upon the Latin American as an inferior person—a jerky, excitable, whinner snapper individual not to be considered seriously.
Magoon's sober judgment convinced him to view the problem from all sides.
He believed that the Latin American was a pretty good sort of fellow after
all. He was in sympathy with the people, and that is one factor in his success.

Now, as to his administration of Cuban affairs, what? Time and events must tell. The president and the secretary of state and we believe in him.
Their belief no doubt is based upon his past performance and is based upon his recognition of the fact that Governor Magoon knows the Latin American, that he knows civil law under military occupation, and that he wrote
most of the legal opinions for the military government of Cuba prior to the formation of the republic. The outlook appears promising.

Governor Magoon is a bachelor.
Nearly every time he comes to the United States he makes a trip out to Lincoln, Neb., not to reopen that law office—he has lost the key somehow—but to visit his venerable mother, who thinks Charley is not making any sort of a fool of himself.

story or engrossing interest to the on-server of events. The story is still running. Each chapter breaks off with its own climax, leaving the reader wondering what is going to happen next. The installment now running in Cuba adds largely to the interest. How will it end? Nobody knows, not even those who are the involuntary authors of it,
and that is what makes the story so captivating.

No Dummy Figure.
Governor Magoon is by no means a character just now introduced in the narrative. He has been running along through the thread of it from the second chapter. Now he advances from a minor to a major character. That he is advanced to this importance at the present stage of the story because he belongs there in the inevitable unfolding of the plot cannot be gainsaid by any one who has followed the career of Mr. Magoon. He is no dummy figure, introduced for the sake of enhancing the interest. He belongs there because of certain antecedent circumstances which have cut his pattern to fit the opening.

The "career" of Mr. Magoon is seven and a half years old. The man himself is nearly forty-five. In fact, one might very properly hold down his career to a matter of two years for until he was designated as general counsel to the isthmian canal commission Mr. Magoon was not widely known. He had been an officeholder at Washington for five years, but there are plenty of men who have held office there for twenty-five years without being known beyond Pennsylvania avenue. It was the unique nature of Mr. Magoon's office, holding and the admirable grasp he had upon his holding that brought him into his wider opportunity. He happened to know certain things which nobody else knew so well and so thoroughly.

partner in Lincoln for advice and got
it. "Don't make a blundered fool of yourself," was the advice. He didn't intend to. He accepted the position without further ado.

A "Law Officer."

All those problems of international law and of the law of common sense which needs must arise when a great republic, for the first time in its history, is compelled by force of circumstances to go out after strange gods had to be settled by somebody. It appears that Magoon settled most of them. There is a story to the effect that he became known as "Judge" Magoon—nearly everybody calls him
"judge"—through the solicitude of a friend, who held that nobody counts for anything in Washington without a title. That may be true, but the title belongs to him morally if not officially.
If a jurist is a judge, then surely this man is Judge Magoon. He landed down—or hunked up, for he passed them along to Secretary Root—so many opinions touching our insular affairs that his job as law officer became really the dignified post of a jurist, an ex-pounder of the laws, and not only that,
but in some sense a maker of laws.
Here where Magoon's common sense came in. When a situation altogether unheard of and undreamed of arose about Magoon's business was to make a ruling. He put some American law, some international law and some common sense together, shook 'em up, and poured out an opinion. Many of these opinions have attained the dignity of laws in the absence of actual statutes to fit the cases.

Magoon at thirty-seven, just out of the Nebraska prairie section, thus made legal rulings for Elfin Root, secretary of war, sixteen years his senior and celebrated lawyer from New York.
Secretary Root was too busy to do the work himself, so it was done by this

VICIOUS ASSAULT TUESDAY NIGHT

MRS. U. F. ROESER FRIGHTENED MAN AWAY BEFORE SERIOUS INJURY WAS DONE.

Mrs. Roeser Was on Way Home With Children When Attacked By Unknown Man.

A vicious assault was committed shortly before ten o'clock on Tuesday night, on the person of Mrs. Catherine Roeser, wife of Mr. Ulrich F. Roeser, the well known decorator of this city, residing at 38 Poplar avenue.

At an early hour in the evening Mrs. Roeser, accompanied by her two little daughters, Dorothy and Marion, aged 9 and 6 years, visited the business portion of the city, and spent some time in looking at the Christmas displays in the show windows of the stores. They then went to the South Fourth street skating rink, where they remained until 9:40 o'clock when they started home. From the rink they went north on Fourth street to Main and west on Main to Fifth, down which street they proceeded to their home. Just as they passed Wilson street Mrs. Roeser noticed a man come off that street and start south on Fifth street immediately behind them. The fellow regulated his pace with that of Mrs. Roeser and the children until Poplar avenue was reached when the fellow caught up with them and said, "Are you afraid?" Mrs. Roeser, who, with the children, was hurrying towards her home on Poplar avenue, said, "No, I am not afraid."

"Well, what did you stop for," said the fellow.

"I thought you wanted to pass us," replied Mrs. Roeser, and started on again. She says she had not taken over half a dozen steps when the fellow grabbed her at the mouth of the dark alley running north from Poplar avenue, and threw her to the ground. Little Dorothy caught the man by the coat and struck him with all her force. All began screaming and the man released his hold of Mrs. Roeser and started up the alley and was soon lost to view.

The man is described as being about five feet two inches in height, smooth face, and wore a dark coat and overalls, with a red scarf about his neck. The entire neighborhood was aroused and for a time the greatest excitement prevailed. Had the man been captured short work would have been made of him.

TO BE MARRIED HERE TONIGHT

MR. LACY AND MISS EDWARDS MET FOR FIRST TIME TWO WEEKS AGO.

Bride-Elect Lives in Adamsville, O., While Mr. Lacy's Home is in Kansas.

Coshocton, O., Dec. 12.--Miss Rose Edwards of Adamsville and Mr. B. R. Lacy of Jefferson county, Kansas, will be united in marriage Wednesday evening at half past eight o'clock at the home of the bride's mother or brother in Newark in the presence of only a few relatives and close friends among the number being Mr. Lacy's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Lacy of Coshocton. The happy pair will visit relatives in this part of the state until after the holidays and will then leave for the home in Kansas whither they will be followed by the good wishes of all their friends.

There is quite a tinge of romance about the wedding for the prospective bride and groom never met until a fortnight ago. Mr. Lacy was born near Adamsville and lived there until he went west in '79, but while his relatives and those of the lady he was destined to wed were great friends and the two had often heard of each other they had never met until the groom-elect came to Ohio this last time. There is an old proverb which says "happy is the wedding that's not long a-doing" so the future is evidently full of good things for Mr. Lacy and the bride-elect.

CODIFYING COMMISSION

Members Appointed and Announced by Governor Harris.

CAMPBELL, LAYLIN, SIBLEY

Three Trainmen Are Fatally Crushed When a Passenger Train Dashes Into Open Switch—Princely Gifts to Western Reserve—General News of the Buckeye State.

Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—Governor Harris announced the appointment of Lewis C. Laylin of Norwalk and Judge Hiram L. Sibley of Marietta, Republicans, and former Governor James E. Campbell of Hamilton, Democrat, as members of the commission which is to codify the laws of the state of Ohio. The salary is $5,000 each per year, and the commission is to begin work on Jan. 1, 1907. The consolidation and revision of the statutes is to be completed by the convening of the Seventy-eighth general assembly "on the first day of the regular session thereof and the whole work closed by such time and the commissioners shall give their entire time to the work until completed." The last legislature, which enacted this law, provided that there should be appropriated for the salary of the three commissioners the sum of $15,000 and for clerk hire, stenographers and incidental expenses $10,000.

It was known only to a limited few that the name of Ohio's former chief executive was being considered by Governor Harris, or that the former was in any sense an applicant, either in an active or passive state. Governor Harris lives at Eaton, Preble county, in the Third district, and has known Governor Campbell intimately for years.

Reserve Receives Aid.
Cleveland, O., Dec. 12.—Announcement was made by President Charles F. Thwing that gifts of $100,000 each were made to Western Reserve university by H. M. Hanna and Colonel Oliver H. Payne. The $200,000 thus subscribed is to be used in establishing and endowing a laboratory of experimental medicine in the medical school of Western Reserve. A professorship of experimental medicine was created at the meeting of the trustees of the university, and Professor Charles D. Stewart of the University of Chicago was elected to the chair.

Oil Argument Concluded.
Findlay, O., Dec. 12.—Argument to dismiss the petition in error to quash the indictments against John D. Rockefeller, M. G. Vilas, J. M. Robertson and H. P. McIntosh, Standard Oil officials, were completed, the closing address being delivered by "Virgil P. Kline of Cleveland. Hearing in the mandamus proceedings in the circuit court against the Buckeye Pipe Line company to compel it to carry all oil offered was to have been held, but a postponement until Tuesday was decided upon.

"Made Roosevelt."
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Belamy Storer, wife of the former ambassador to Austria, in an interview is reported to have said: "We created President Roosevelt by inducing President McKinley to appoint Mr. Roosevelt to the important post of assistant secretary of the navy. It seems hardly worth while to pay any attention to the attacks President Roosevelt has chosen to make upon myself and my husband. No one knows the truth better than President Roosevelt."

Action Against Lumber Trust.
Lima, O., Dec. 12.—Commissioner Garfield has sent a request to Prosecuting Attorney Welty to file suit against the alleged lumber trust, based on the results of the grand jury probe last fall. Mr. Welty at this investigation brought out that the retailers were in the power of a combination stronger than their own, and startling evidence was given to show a pool agreement existing between the big wholesalers and producers.

Ended in Tragedy.
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 12.—With a mock threatening manner, imitating an Irish comedian in a burlesque show, he witnessed Bernard Flueck, 16, pointed a revolver at the breast of his cousin, Frank Ellis, and pulled the trigger. Ellis fell, instantly killed by a bullet which passed through his heart. Flueck was arrested and a charge of murder placed against him.

Date of Gilman Hearing.
Dayton, O., Dec. 12.—Collins and Fayne Gilman are under arrest for alleged complicity in the murder of their sister, Dona Gilman. Both pleaded not guilty. Fayne Gilman was not locked up but was permitted to remain at the home of a friend. Collins was committed to jail. Collins and Fayne will be given a preliminary hearing Friday.

Open Switch.
Lima, O., Dec. 12.—Northbound passenger train No. 8 on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad crashed into an open switch in the north yards. Fireman Nichols of Dayton was killed and brakeman Thieman and Engineer Charles Long were fatally injured. No passengers were hurt.

Brannock's Home Town Dry.
Bethel, O., Dec. 12.—In the local option election here, 309 votes were cast, of which the drys received a majority of 62. This town is the home of Mr. Brannock, author of the law under which the election was held. There were three saloons in the village that are ousted by the election.

Violated Eight-Hour Law.
Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—Frank J. Duval and Fred C. Duval, contractors who were building an ice pier in the Ohio river at Gallipolis, entered pleas of guilty in United States court to an indictment charging them with violating the 8-hour law, and were fined $25 and costs.

Fell to Death.
Columbus, O., Dec. 12.—Richard Fields, 65, employed for 30 years at the Columbus machine plant on West Broad street, was instantly killed while at work. He was crawling across a rafter about 40 feet from the floor to reach a crane, and fell.

DYNAMITE AND KNIVES FIGURE IN TRIAL TEAMSTER STRIKERS

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Evidence was brought in the Shea trial that President Shea during the strike of the teamsters last year seriously considered the use of dynamite as a means of winning the strike. Michael Kelly, who was in charge of one of the squads of pickets, testified on the stand that Shea asked him if he knew of anybody who could handle dynamite. He also said that knives were given out to the pickets with the instructions that they were to be used on colored men who had taken the places of the strikers, and also for the purpose of cutting harnesses.

JAP IMMIGRATION

Bitterly Denounced by a California Congressman.

New York, Dec. 12.—Japanese immigration was bitterly denounced in a speech by Representative Julius Kahn of San Francisco. Mr. Kahn was one of the speakers at a dinner of the New York Credit Men's association. "The people of the Pacific coast," he said, "were satisfied that the Japanese would always remain loyal to the mikado, and that the oath of naturalization would be to them a hollow mockery." Californians did not want that kind of citizenship and did not intend to have it if they could prevent it. The people of the coast, he said, had had their experience with Chinese coolies, and now were threatened with another oriental invasion still more serious, for the Japanese had all the vices of the Chinese with none of their virtues.

Japs Wear War Medals.
Honolulu, Dec. 12.—Many Japanese laborers wearing war medals arrived here today from Yokohama.

NATIONAL LEAGUE MEETS IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 12.—The National League of Baseball Clubs began its annual meeting here. The chief interest of the meeting centered on the election of a president, though the question was not taken up. President Harry C. Pulliam is a candidate for re-election, but is being strongly opposed by rival interests headed by John T. Brush of the New York club and Garry Herrmann of Cincinnati. James T. Hart, former owner and president of the Chicago club, was also spoken of as a possible candidate. The exchange of Ritchey, second baseman; Flaherty, pitcher, and one other player of the Pittsburgh club for Abbatichio, second baseman of the Boston club, was announced.

FROM ALLOTMENT

Land Ordered Withdrawn by Secretary of Interior.

Muskogee, I. T., Dec. 12.—More than two-thirds of the Choctaw nation and 26 townships in the Cherokee nation have been withdrawn from allotment by the orders of the secretary of the interior. The Choctaw land office and the land division of the Dawes commission are practically paralyzed on account of the orders. The land withdrawn in the Cherokee nation includes the Ozark and the Wauhatchie lands and extends from the Arkansas line west to within six miles of Tahlequah, and is not good farming land but is well stocked with game and fish. The Choctaw land withdrawals are of timber land or land that may be readily timbered.

General Sir Ian Hamilton, who may succeed Lord Kitchener as commander in chief of India, has been wounded in almost every action in which he has taken part.

TYPES OF JAPANESE IMMIGRANTS.

FORWARD DECK OF THE PACIFIC MAIL LINE S.S. MONGOLIA, SHOWING JAPANESE COOLIES ON THEIR WAY TO HAWAII AND CALIFORNIA.

Attention having been forcibly directed to the subject of Japanese immigration by the San Francisco school question, consular reports and the observation of travellers recently returned from the Orient are being anxiously scanned for light upon economic conditions in Japan. Statistics have been forthcoming and reliable authority is quoted for the statement that Japanese laborers are being landed on the Pacific coast in such numbers as to exceed the departures by one thousand each month. These figures have led to inquiry on the industrial situation in the country that looms ahead as a new feeder to the great cosmopolitan population of America and holds out hints of another race problem in the not distant future.

This contingency may be averted by President Roosevelt's "understanding" with Japan, wherein the latter is to seek to restrict Japanese emigration to America and "divert it" to Manchuria and Korea.

ON THE ISTHMUS

Stevens and Sullivan Arrive From Panama and Tell of Conditions. To Return in January.

New York, Dec. 12.—John F. Stevens, chief engineer, and J. G. Sullivan, assistant chief engineer of the Panama canal commission, arrived here on the steamer Panama from Colon. They expect to return to the isthmus early in January. Concerning the rumor reported from Panama that he might resign from the commission, Mr. Sullivan said that he had not resigned and that reports that he intended doing so were unfounded. In speaking of the conditions on the isthmus Mr. Stevens said: "There are at present at work on the canal 17,000 men, 5,000 of whom are white. There are no Chinese among the workmen. The best workmen are the Italians and Spaniards. There has not been a death since July, when I went down, and very little sickness."

Mother and Children Burned.
Rock Rapids, Ia., Dec. 12.—While Mrs. C. Rudolph was engaged in cleaning a coat with gasoline, near here, the gasoline exploded. Her five-year-old son was burned to death and a daughter 17 years old so badly burned that she can not recover. Mrs. Rudolph and her baby were also injured, but it is thought they will recover.

BANK MERGER.

St. Louis, Dec. 12.—Announcement was made that negotiations have been completed by which the National Bank of Commerce will absorb the Fourth National bank. The latter has a capital stock of $1,000,000, a surplus of the same amount, and carries about $15,000,000 in deposits.

INSURANCE VICE PRESIDENT FOUND GUILTY LARCENY

GEO. BURNHAM CONVICTED OF STEALING $7,500 OF THE COMPANY'S FUNDS.

A RESULT OF INVESTIGATION

Two Other Officers of Insurance Company Indicted at the Same Time in New York.

New York, Dec. 12.—George Burnham, Jr., a vice president and general counsel of the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance company, was convicted of larceny of $7,500 of the company's funds. The prosecution and conviction of Burnham was an outgrowth of the investigation of insurance companies in this state by a legislative committee a year ago. Two other officers of the insurance company, Frederick A. Burnham, president, and George D. Eldridge, vice president, were indicted at the same time as the man who was convicted. Five indictments were returned against each of the defendants. The charge against George Burnham, Jr., is that in 1901 he paid J. Douglas Wells with company funds for a loan alleged to have been made to Frederick A. Burnham, the president, and that the payment was concealed by false entries in the books of the insurance company.

APPROPRIATION

By Trustees of Carnegie Institution to Aid in Scientific Research of Various Kinds.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The board of trustees of the Carnegie Institution of Washington appropriated $661,800 to aid in scientific researches of various kinds during 1907. This provides for continuing work in 10 departments already organized and for the reorganization of a department of nutrition under the direction of Professor Francis C. Benedict of Wesleyan university, Middletown, Conn. About $100,000 was set aside for the award of minor grants previously implied, for new minor grants and for research associates. Secretary of State Root presided.

mangled was a diner that was being shifted by the yard engine preparatory to coupling onto passenger No. 14. The unfortunate man was busily at work when he was forced to step off the track on account of an approaching freight train. In stepping out of the way of the freight he stepped on another track right in the path of the fast approaching dining car. The victim of the accident was 27 years of age and had a wife and child, although it is said they had not lived together for some time.

IN NEGROES' BEHALF.

Evidence Regarding Brownsville Affair Presented to President.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Glitcher Stewart, representing the Constitutional league and 145 of the soldiers, and Rev. Dr. Charles S. Morris, pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist church of New York city, are in Washington in the interest of the battalion of soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry, colored, who were discharged "without honor" as a result of the affair at Brownsville, Tex. Mr. Stewart has a large amount of evidence regarding the affair, which he presented to the president through Secretary Loeb. The president is preparing his answer to the senate resolution calling for information regarding the discharged soldiers. Mr. Stewart said the evidence he presented to the president embraces 172 affidavits; that they show that within five minutes after Major Penrose ordered the "call to arms" every man of the battalion answered the roll call, and was under the direct supervision of the white officers, who verified the roll call, making it impossible for substitutions; that all of the officers and men thought the firing was of mixed arms, and that the fort was being attacked by a certain element in the city which had threatened to drive the colored soldiers out of the city.

MAYOR OF NEWARK GETS BIG TRACT.

—NOT A TRACT OF LAND.

Mayor McCleery has received many letters commenting on the action taken in enforcing the Sunday laws, but one which came this morning has been placed in a class by itself. It is evidently from a Seventh Day Adventist and reads as follows:

New Philadelphia, O., Dec. 10.
Dear Sir—I see by the papers that you are getting away from the Gallic Way of looking at matters of religion. (See Acts 18:12-16) so thought I would send you a tract to read.

The Seventh Day is the Bible Sabbath so be very careful Sunday laws you make. (See Revelations 12:16-17).

Yours truly,

(Signed) F. E. Wagner.

The mayor acknowledged the receipt of the letter and promised a careful perusal of the tract. He then told the writer that the mayor does not make the laws, but only takes an oath to enforce them. He stated that no mayor has a right to say what laws should or should not be enforced. The letter concluded by stating that the statutes forbid the opening of any place of business on the first day of the week except by him who observes the seventh day as Sunday. Of course a special act forbids the opening of saloons, and therefore no Adventist could open a saloon on Sunday, though he might observe the day before as his Sabbath.

The tract which accompanied the letter was a long one and was information concerning the Adventists' belief.

Commandment amended by the President: Thou shalt learn to kill.

TO FOLLOW RATIFICATION

Disclaimer of Responsibility for the Algeiras Treaty.

UNCLE SAM'S ROLE DEFINED

Cabinet Nominations Held Up Pending Further Investigation — Smoot Case Discussed in the Senate. President's Special Message on Porto Rico.

Washington, Dec. 12.—When the Algeiras treaty in relation to Moroccan affairs is taken up in the senate there will be offered a resolution to follow the resolution of ratification which will recite that the United States participates in the agreement merely for the promotion of its trade interests and the protection of its citizens, and to aid in the effort to preserve peace between some of the parties to the Moroccan treaty of 1880. It will declare further that while becoming a party to the treaty for these purposes, it is not the intention of this country to depart from the traditional policy which prohibits participation in political affairs of Europe which do not concern America. The disclaimer of responsibility for the Algeiras treaty was drafted by Senators Spooner, Lodge and Bacon as a result of an argument by Senator Bacon.

The nomination of W. H. Moody to be associate justice of supreme court of United States was again taken up in the senate, but because of renewed inquiries by Democratic senators, this time relating to actions by him as a member of the house of representatives, it went over. Senators Carmack and Culberson commented on a story that Mr. Moody as a member of the house had been active in trying to have passed a bill that would reduce the representation of the southern states. The nominations of George B. Cortelyou to be secretary of the treasury and James R. Garfield to be secretary of the interior are held up in committee, the members insisting on learning from President Roosevelt when Secretaries Shaw and Hitchcock intend to retire.

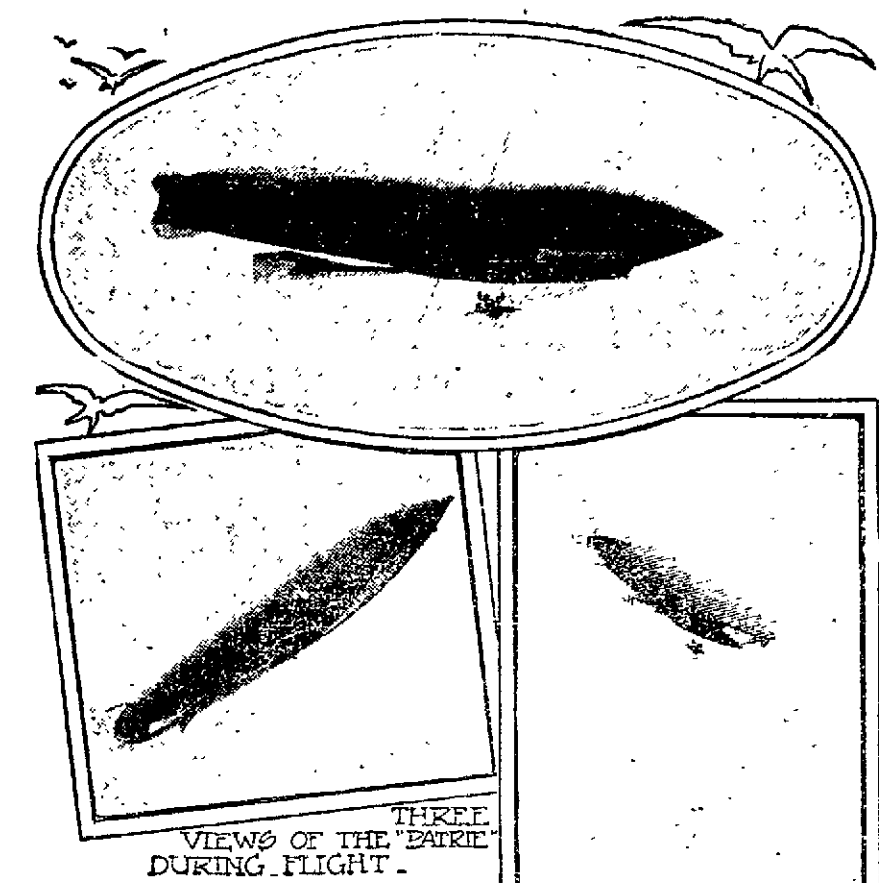

Senator Reed Smoot's right to a seat as United States senator from Utah was discussed by Senator Burrows in the senate for more than three hours. Senator Smoot occupied his place in the chamber. No interruptions were made during the entire speech, which was an arraignment of Mormonism and the responsibility which attached to Mr. Smoot for Mormon principles as a member of the apostolic body of the church.

President on Porto Rico.

The president's message giving the result of his recent observations in Porto Rico and making recommendations concerning the government of that island was delivered to the senate. It was read at length and received careful attention. The message was as follows:

Nov. 21 I visited the island of Porto Rico, landing at Ponce, crossing by the old Spanish road by Cayey to San Juan, and returning next morning over the new American road from Aracibo to Ponce; the scenery was beautiful, especially among the mountains of the interior, which are covered with tropical vegetation. FUCHS BROTHERS FINE STORE IN UNION BLOCK

There has never been a holiday season when the merchants of Newark have manifested such pride or taken such pains to exhibit their magnificent stock of goods, or to display it to such an advantage in their show windows. And in this connection the Fuchs Brothers, the enterprising and up-to-date jewelers, whose fine store is now in the Union Block, on Church street, are worth noticing. An Advocate reporter called at the store today and found it crowded with customers and others examining the exceptionally fine stock of goods for the Christmas trade. The stock embraces everything in the jewelry line from diamonds and watches to shirt studs and cuff buttons. When it comes to silverware the holiday purchases have never had such a beautiful and appropriate assortment to choose from. They have in their stock the celebrated coffee machines, hot water kettles, chafing dishes, silver knives and forks in various patterns; also the latest creations in ice cream sets, oyster forks, single souvenir spoons, berry sets, and in fact everything known to the silverware world are just now shining in splendid lustre, which is in sympathy to the time of giving and receiving presents. The Fuchs Brothers are awake to the demand of the trade, and they have purchased goods accordingly. Up-to-date business methods are employed in the management of their store, and you will make no mistake in patronizing them. Their store is located in the Union Block, on Church street.

SUMMIT STATION.

There are still a few on the sick list. Mrs. Martha Johnston of Brownsville is visiting her son Prof. Reed Johnston and family of this place. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McIntosh of Columbus was the Sabbath guest of David McIntosh and family on Broadway. Grant Wilson is clerking for H. A. McIntosh in his grocery store in the Capital City. Andrew Connell has purchased the restaurant of L. O. Linnville. Mr. Linnville moved his family and household goods to Columbus Saturday. Our merchants are filling up their rooms with holiday goods. Santa Claus can get a supply here for the children, if he will pass this way. Benjamin Dayton has accepted a position as fireman on the T. & O. C. railway.

Elocution as a Study.

Of the many advantages along the line of education there is one which seems to be greatly neglected, namely, reading and elocution. About the time our pupils leave the grammar grade we give them advantages in things we call accomplishments, but which if considered from an intellectual view point, could only be termed amusement, and that of a frivolous nature. 'Tis true, we must have a portion of the less serious, as we go along, but it should not be to the exclusion of the things which appeal strongly to "higher education."

The very nature of this most pleasing branch of education savors directly of intellect and ability, and when obtained serves to place one in a most enviable position upon the plane of culture. A young man may often times withhold valuable ideas and opinions in regard to the affairs of life, simply because he would be almost frightened at the sound of his own voice. He knows what to say, if he knew how to say it. Instruction in this particular would give him self assurance, and no doubt arouse latent power far reaching in its effect. A young woman can many times and places acquit herself a charming entertainer, at the same time enhancing native ability by correctly receiving a selection or impersonating

HEBRON.

The improvements on the streets and crossings are rapidly being completed and the residents of the city are enthusiastic in their praise of the council for its efforts to correct this much talked of fault.

The Columbus Gas company has promised to furnish gas lighting gratis and the matter is now before the village council.

J. L. Gearing of Columbus has removed his family to the Oldaker property on North street. Mr. Gearing is fitting up a printing office and is now prepared to do all kinds of job printing.

Mrs. Andrews is quite ill at her home on Basin street. Her daughter, Mrs. Charles Smith of Newark, is caring for her.

Nathaniel Price, foreman of the section gang, removed his family to Newark last week. Mr. Ebone of Wyoming, who has opened a racket store here, will remove his family to the Price residence as soon as it is vacated.

Mr. and Mrs. Sprague of Canton, have been in the village for the past few days looking for a site for business. As there is such a demand for houses and not a vacant one in town, many people are waiting for parties to erect houses for rent.

Mrs. Miller of Kinkersville has purchased the Henry Winthorn property on Basin street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Embrey were called to Baltimore Sunday to attend the funeral of the latter's sister, Mrs. Manger, who died at her home on Thursday evening.

The many friends of Mr. William Koch will be pleased to learn of his improved condition. He has been confined to his home for two weeks with rheumatism. After a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Koch, of Main street, Mrs. Reese of Columbus has returned to her home.

Doing His Share.

"Do you contribute to the happiness and prosperity of others without expecting any selfish reward?" asked the sincere man.

"I should say so," answered the crusty citizen. "I have for years been making directors happy and prosperous by paying life insurance premiums."—Washington Star.

M. SANTOS-DUMONT'S TRIUMPHANT FLIGHT IN NEW AEROPLANE IN PARIS.

Following his recent aeroplane success, Santos-Dumont, according to cable dispatches, is engaged in building a new machine on brand new ideas. The illustration shows the feat of November 12 in Paris. After several preliminary trials, when the machine had flown 75, 128 and 42 yards, the aeronaut decided to return to his starting point by going against the wind. For thirty yards the motor ran along the ground, then suddenly it rose to a height of about five yards, and, appearing like a great white bird, it soared half-way down the course. M. Santos-Dumont startled by some spectators in his way, twisted his rudder quickly and the machine came heavily to the ground, da maging one of its wings. The experiment, however, was a triumph, for actual flight was achieved, and it seems as though it were only a matter of time for the conquest of the air to be accomplished. The 235 yards were traversed in twenty-one seconds.

NEWARK SCHOOL CHILDREN WRITE ON CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Prize Essay Composed by Byron Pryor a Pupil of Eighth Grade at Woodside Building—Original Ideas as to What Should be Done.

The committee appointed to award prizes for school essays found it very hard to decide—among so many excellent ones—which were the best. We publish below, therefore, not only the prize essay but a number of others. The writers of these essays have evidently not only taken an interest in the subject of City Improvement, but have original ideas as to what should be done and how it should be done.

The prizes offered were: American-Tribune, $2.00; Mr. Frank Hall, traveling case. The latter was awarded to Byron Pryor; the Tribune prize to Neita Stinger. A prize was offered by Mr. William Sprague to the High school, but no essays from high school pupils were sent in.

PRIZE ESSAY.

Woodside Building, 8th Grade; Miss Frye, teacher.

(Byron Pryor.) The cleaning up of our city and country is going on under the name of Civic Improvement. Newark needs a good deal of this. It can be done by street cleaning, tree planting, gardens, getting good public officers, libraries, reading rooms and public spirited citizens.

Other towns no larger than Newark have all these or most of them and they are on the highway to large and attractive cities. Why not we? It has been starved but not kept up very well because of a lack of funds. There are some women in Newark who want to see a change for the better. They have tried. Here is a time for Newark to wake up.

Every one can do something. With a very little cost any person can clean up his or her home until it will hardly be known. They can keep their yards clean, plant flower beds, and vines to cover up lumber, stumps, or anything that interferes with the beauty of a place.

If your place is old and not good enough to fix plant vines over it and have a green fence or fix and paint it. If your yard is bare and stucco and stuff around in the corners plant grass on the yard and clean up the corners and plant vines. Keep your back yard clean and it will improve your premises a good deal.

Do not fix up bill boards business men! A clean city attracts people lots more than large signs. Help improve the city by not putting up bill boards. The children can help too by not throwing papers or refuse from their pockets on the streets.

Here is some selections from the mayor of Denver's proclamation that would apply well to the citizens of Newark. If your sign is old order a new one. If your fence needs fixing repair it get a new one and several other good ones.

In conclusion I hope that the people of Newark will waken up and that we will see good results in a few years.

NEITA STINGER.

North Fourth Street Building, 8th Grade; Miss Frye, teacher.

If some cities civic improvement is carried on more extensively than in others. And why? Because the people all help. Not only those who belong to the Civic Improvement League are the ones who help to make their city beautiful, but each person helps in making the city beautiful.

People may say, "Oh! my help won't do any good." But your help will do good. If every one helps just a little, in the end it will be a great deal of help.

There is something for every one to do. Children can take an active part in civic improvement, if they only will. How often people complain of children trespassing on their property. Then children should be very careful about throwing papers carelessly around. It not only makes the street look bad, but if the pieces are large enough, they are apt to frighten horses.

In Newark some water pipes have been laying around for a long time. They make the streets look very bad and are very dangerous at night if people are driving.

Some people think it would be a good thing if the canal in Newark were filled up. It would make a very nice, wide street and also a fine place for a business block, but if it were left as it is, and kept clean, and the banks fixed and the houses which keep it looking so run down and dirty, replaced with better ones, that would be a great improvement to Newark. This canal is government property and should be kept up by the government, but it does not take very good care of it.

Some citizens may deem cleaning up day unworthy of notice, but it is worthy of notice if everyone cleaned on that day there would be the greatest chance one could imagine in the looks of the town.

A clean city is the best place to live, if one cares anything about one's health. I don't think our streets are swept often enough.

As the United States is still quite a young country there ought to be a great deal which the Civic Improvement League could do there.

LILLIAN MANNION.

Central Building, 7th Grade; Miss Frye, teacher.

We may say it was only recently when a great many people in Newark realized what Civic Improvement means. The term gained prominence only after a few illustrated lectures given by one Professor Zeublin of Chicago, who has made this subject a study, personally visiting a great number of the larger and many small cities of this country which enabled him to talk plain on Civic Improvement.

I attended one of the lectures and was indeed glad to be present, when he brought to the minds of the residents and principally the city officials their duties on this subject. Since that time there has been a spasmodic effort now and then to improve in many ways, for instance I observe, it struck our teachers right here in this building to abide by the teachings of Professor Zeublin by having the boys clean the school yard, and nearby alleys picking up all old rubbish and carrying it to a pile to be burned. The result was very good and made a decided improvement to the surroundings, but will it be kept up? And if not we cannot call it Civic Improvement. Why shouldn't the good work go on and be a pride to ourselves, besides having a city equal to any for beauty. Take for instance the alley west of our school what a great improvement could be made to it by a few wagon loads of gravel to put it back to its original shape.

A longer composition could be given but as we are limited in time this I trust will be acceptable.

LESTER DAVIS.

Woodside Building, 8th Grade; Miss Frye, teacher.

The people who take an interest in "Civic Improvement" are the right spirited citizens.

In the last few years mostly the women have worked hard to have the cities kept clean.

The city of Newark is not improving as fast as some other cities in Ohio to the School Children.

The school children of Newark should not throw paper apples, pennantshells banana peelings or any other things that does not look well. They should help pick up papers and put it in the few cans that are downtown.

To the Citizens of Newark. The citizens of Newark should keep their yards, barns, fences, henhouses, and lawn in repair and keep them rid of all garbage.

The garbage can should be out of the sun and have a vine of some sort to cover it. A penthouse could be built over it to protect it from the sun and morning glories could be planted around the bottom. The alleys should be kept clean of tin cans and weeds.

To the Counselmen. The counselmen should see that the streets were kept clean and the water-pipes taken off.

The city of Newark has improved in the last few years. More fire departments were gotten and a patrol wagon. There were streets paved and new sewers put in and in future years our town we all hope will be one of the cleanest and beautiful in Ohio.

HELEN WRIGHT.

Woodside Building, 7th Grade; Mr. Scott, teacher.

Newark is a very pretty little town, I suppose I ought to call it a city since the skyscraper has been built. I think it looks odd to see this building looking above every thing else.

Public baths would help to improve Newark very much for the school children, like they used to have in Rome. Vines ought to be grown over all unsightly places.

The streets of this town ought to be kept very clean, so that we may have a second Berlin, but unless we work very hard we can never make it look near as good as Berlin.

The rubbish ought to be kept off the alleys and streets and thrown in the

It would be lovely if we could have nice parks like those in Chicago so that the people that have no yards can go and sit in the parks. We have one park that is very pretty but it is not kept very clean and it is very much run down.

We have some very pretty streets in Newark and there is a great deal of shade on these streets, which makes it nice and cool in summer.

Our streets are wide and that is very nice, but we cannot say that they are very clean, we also have fine schools.

"What?" exploded Mrs. Gunner, her cheeks blazing. "Do you mean to stand there, George Gunner, and tell me that you were idiot enough to throw away your hard earned money on the races?"

"Yes, dear. But listen! After I lost the $10 I thought I would chance a five spot on a 5 to 1 shot. I won."

"You won? Well, if you really won I suppose."

"But just then I got a tip from a friend and put the $25 on a dark horse. I lost."

"You lost? Oh, George, how could you? And I need a hat and shoes. If I had my way I would destroy every track in the country."

"But hold on. Just then I found a lone dollar bill in an inside pocket. I put that on a 100 to 1 shot and won hands down. Here's the $100, pet."

ALIMONY SUIT FOLLOWS WEDDING

REMARKABLE MARRIAGE OF
ROSS BOUNDS RECALLED
BY THIS ACTION.

As Soon as Ceremony Was Ended He Left Bride and Returned Home to His Mother.

The facts connected with the marriage of Ross Bounds, a former E. & O. employee, and Miss Lillian McClain, daughter of Arthur McClain, of Kirkersville, on Sunday afternoon, September 16, are recalled in an alimony suit just filed.

It seems that Miss McClain had been employed by a family in the West End and while there formed the acquaintance of Bounds, to whom she formed a great attachment, and it is said that on several occasions she endeavored to persuade Bounds to marry her. He, however, was not ready to marry her, and each time put her off. Finally James Gary took out a licence for the marriage of Bounds and Miss McClain. On September 16 Mr. Bounds received a message that he was wanted at the Gary home, and thinking it was to be a friendly call, did not attire himself as for a wedding, but responded to the invitation attired in a red shirt and his working clothes. He was amazed to learn that all was in readiness for the ceremony, the preacher and guests being there and the feast spread. Rather than disappoint the assembled guests, although much against his will, it is said, he allowed the ceremony to proceed. The Gary home, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. N. Madden, is near Moore's Corners, on the traction line, and 40 guests witnessed the ceremony. The mother of the groom was almost prostrated when she learned of the marriage. Mr. Gary, who made all the arrangements for the marriage, is the stepfather of the girl. It was claimed at the time that Bounds' condition was such that any one could easily influence him to do almost anything.

Immediately after the ceremony it is said, the groom deserted his bride and came home to live with his mother.

Now, in less than three months after the marriage the bride has commenced suit in the Probate for alimony. She charges her husband with neglect in that he does not provide for her and that he has abandoned her. She says her husband is the owner of about 30 acres of land and that he has property in Newark. She asks that she be allowed alimony. J. V. Hilliard, attorney for plaintiff.

ARE YOU FOOD WISE ?

Do You Select With Care What You Eat—The Maximum of Strength For the Minimum of Cost ?

The Following Will Be of Interest.

All scientists agree that the cereals are man's natural food, and that the nearer we live to nature the healthier and happier we are and the longer we may live.

To keep pace with the food requirements of the age is the constant study of those whose business it is to supply the same.

Cereal foods are the cheapest and best to eat and Hardyfood is the one that is selected by the food wise.

Hardyfood is made from the choicest selected grains and is prepared by new and original methods with rigid care and cleanliness.

Those portions of the grain which produce harmful results are discarded and only those elements needed for brain, nerve, bone and muscle-building are retained.

Hardyfood is especially beneficial to those with impaired digestion and is the only prepared food from which the excess of starch and glucose has been eliminated.

Hardyfood is so easily digested that it can be eaten by the aged, young people and the dyspeptic, and should be their principal meal every day.

A box of Hardyfood contains as much nutrition as five pounds of beef. Instead of starving if ill, live exclusively on Hardyfood for thirty days, avoiding all medicines, and you will get back into a healthy condition.

Too great a variety in food is the cause of much illness and discomfort. A simple diet is best.

WILLIAM S. BATTIS MUCH ENJOYED

INTERPRETER DICKENS' CHILD STUDIES SPOKE HERE ON TUESDAY NIGHT.

Some of the Good Points Brought Out in Mr. Battis' Talk at Plymouth Church.

The audience which assembled at Plymouth Congregational church Tuesday night thoroughly enjoyed William Sterling Battis' interpretation of "Dickens' Child Studies." Mr. Battis is a master of his art and the cultured audience showed appreciation of his effort.

To Dickens the development of the imagination in children was of paramount importance, giving it free play, and stimulated into activity by play and story-book, toys and pictures. No friends are more real than those of the child's imagination. The little toy doll is endowed with genuine feeling, the little tin soldier is eager to enter into the victorious conflict, the train of cars on the floor is the real thing, though it is made of clothes pins, with a thimble for a smoke stack, and a couple of spools for the engine, and many are the journeys he takes thereon. He lives with these imaginary features in reality, and should be encouraged so to do. He forms new worlds of his own, which are adapted to his stage of development.

There are many people who sigh for the good old days when "lickin' and larnin'" went hand in hand, for they believe "wallop the boy, develop the man." What a mistake! Corporal punishment tends to develop obstinacy in boy or man. If we understand the boy more we would punish less. Many childhood's difficulties arise from not being understood, or the fear of being misunderstood. What bitterness it puts into any life to be misunderstood. How many lives have been cast upon the rocks of despair by a failure to be understood.

Punishment at best is but a barbarous practice of inflicting pain. Childhood can not be measured save by its own standard.

When anyone disapproves of legitimate amusement in his family, his condemnation of what is proper will have little weight with his children. A great many worthy people grow old and forget that they were ever young, and shut their hearts against the young, and have no sympathy for or with their trials, temptations, and many troubles, and arrive at the conclusion that the sure way of sharpening a child's wits is to snub it on every occasion. They may be honest in their purpose, but too often is abrupt bluntness and rudeness mistaken for honesty.

Dickens ridiculed the outrageous practice of sending children to be trained by women or taught by men, whose only qualification for the sacred duty was they needed the money.

There is no more contemptible form of punishment than that of sending a child supperless to bed.

There should be a law against the employment of any teacher of children who is not good looking—not handsome, for one who has the complexion of a wax doll, is apt to have a soul quite as expressive as one—but good looking with the accent on the good—and winsome.

Dickens had no sympathy for mere form in religion. Form is only a decoration, something put in or indulged in for effect, and rarely expresses the true mental attitude. The reading of meaningless passages from the Bible, the recital of prayers by public bodies in concert, or the saying of grace at the table, is too often mere form—vain repetition.

perous year that the island has ever known before or since the American occupation. The total of exports and imports of the island was $45,000,000, against $18,000,000 in 1901. This is the largest in the island's history. Prior to the American occupation the greatest trade for any one year was that of 1896, when it reached nearly $23,000,000. Last year, therefore, there was a record trade that there was in the most prosperous year under the Spanish regime. There were 210,273 tons of sugar exported last year, of the value of $14,186,319; $3,555,163 of tobacco, and 28,290,323 pounds of coffee of the value of $7,431,102. Unfortunately, what used to be Porto Rico's prime crop—coffee—has not shared this prosperity. It has never recovered from the disaster of the hurricane, and moreover, the benefit of throwing open our market to it has not compensated for the loss inflicted by the closing of the markets to it abroad. I earnestly hope that some measure will be taken for the benefit of the excellent and high grade Porto Rican coffee.

There is a matter to which I wish to call your special attention, and that is the subject of coffee-growing full American citizenship upon the people of Porto Rico. I most earnestly hope that this will be done. I can not see how any harm can possibly result from it, and it seems to me a matter of right and justice to the people of Porto Rico. They are loyal, they are glad to be under our flag, they are making rapid progress along the path of orderly liberty. Surely we should show our appreciation of them, our pride in what they have done, and our pleasure in extending them recognition for what has been done, by granting them full American citizenship.

Under the wise administration of the present governor and council, marked progress has been made in the difficult matter of granting to the people of the island the largest measure of self-government that can with safety be given at the present time. It would have been a very serious mistake to have gone any faster than we have already gone in this direction. The Porto Ricans have complete and absolute autonomy in all their municipal governments, the only power ever then possessed by the insular government being that of removing corrupt or incompetent municipal officials. This power has never been exercised save on the clearest proof of corruption or of incompetence—such as to jeopardize the interests of the people of the island; and under such circumstances it has been fearlessly used to the immense benefit of the people. It is not a power with which it would be safe, for the sake of the island itself, to dispense at present. The lower house is absolutely elective, while the upper house is appointive. This scheme is working well; no injustice of any kind results from it, and great benefit to the island, and it should certainly not be changed at this time. The machinery of the elections is administered entirely by the Porto Rican people themselves, the governor and council keeping only such supervision as is necessary in order to insure an orderly election. Any protest as to electoral frauds is settled in the courts. Here again it would not be safe to make any change in the present system. The elections this year were absolutely orderly, unaccompanied by any disturbance, and no protest has been made against the management of the elections, although three contests are threatened where the majorities were very small and error was claimed; the contests, of course, to be settled in the courts. In short, the governor and council are co-operating with all of the most enlightened and most patriotic of the people of Porto Rico in educating the citizens of the island in the principles of orderly liberty. They are providing a government based upon each citizen's self-respect, and the mutual respect of all citizens; that is, based upon a rigid observance of the principles of justice and honesty. It has not been easy to instill into the minds of people unaccustomed to the exercise of freedom the two basic principles of our American system; the principle that the majority must rule, and the principle that the minority has rights which must not be disregarded or trampled upon. Yet real progress has been made in having these principles accepted as elementary, as foundations of successful self-government.

All the insular governments should be placed in one bureau, either in the department of war or the department of state. It is a mistake not to so arrange our handling of these islands at Washington as to be able to take advantage of the experience gained in one, when dealing with the problems that from time to time arise in another.

In conclusion let me express my admiration for the work done by the congress when it enacted the law under which the island is now being administered. After seeing the island personally, and after five years' experience in connection with its administration, it is but fair to those who devised this law to say that it would be well-nigh impossible to have devised any other which in the actual working would have accomplished better results.
